Frank Beamer

CLASS OF 2018

1969 Graduated from Tech after lettering for the Hokies from 1966-68. His jersey No. 25 is worn by a different special teams performer every game.

136 Beamer Ball became synonymous with Virginia Tech as the Hokies blocked 136 kicks during his tenure.

16-1 Beamer led Tech to wins in 16 of his last 17 meetings with Virginia, including victories in his last 12 contests against the Cavaliers.

35 Seasons Overall

29 Seasons at Tech
238-121-2 (.662)

21-9 The Hokies became a fixture on ESPN's Thursday Night Football, posting a 21-9 record in those games under Beamer, who is credited with helping turn ESPN's College Gameday into a national phenomenon.

6 Guided Tech to six BCS Bowl Games, including the 2000 Sugar Bowl which served as the 1999 National Championship Game.

13 Led Virginia Tech to 13 seasons with 10 or more wins, registering seven conference titles (3 BIG EAST, 4 ACC).

WINNING TRADITION

America's longest active bowl streak, domination of an in-state rival, ACC championships, national exposure, a history of sending players to the NFL, fanatical fan support and an unprecedented track record of families sending multiple members to play for the Hokies are all part of Virginia Tech's winning tradition.

16

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

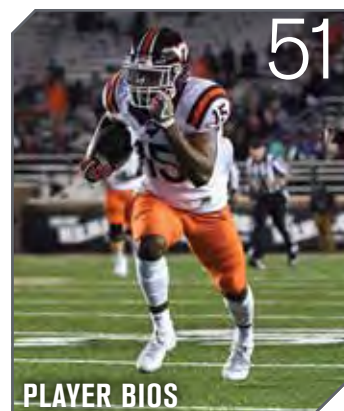

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field provides Virginia Tech with one of the most revered homefield advantages in all of college football. The Hokies arguably boast the finest indoor practice facility of any college or NFL team in the nation, and it's literally just footsteps from a fabulous locker room.

COACHING STAFF

Head coach Justin Fuente leads a staff that combines some cornerstones of Tech's past success with fresh ideas and enthusiasm. They share one common mission – identify and recruit the best student-athletes to Virginia Tech and then help prepare them for success.

51

PLAYER BIOS

The youthful Hokies return numerous ascending players such as WR Sean Savoy. Defensively, seniors Ricky Walker and Vinny Mihota anchor the defensive line, while fellow seniors Kyle Chung, Yosuah Nijman and Braxton Pfaff provide experience up front offensively.

SEASON REVIEW

The Lunch Pail Defense pitched three shutouts during the 2017 season, while the Hokies' special teams continued to uphold the tradition of Beamer Ball with blocked kicks and return scores. New faces emerged on offense, while others etched their name in the record books as Tech extended its bowl streak to 25 straight seasons.

RECORDS/HISTORY

Virginia Tech's history and football records are inextricably linked. A litany of NFL greats like Andre' Davis, Carroll Dale, Bruce Smith, Michael Vick and DeAngelo Hall firmly etched their names in Tech history during their memorable careers with the Hokies.

BEAMER LEGACY

Few figures in college football history are beloved as Frank Beamer, who will be enshrined as part of the College Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2018. His legacy transcended Blacksburg as he made a lasting impact on the way the game was played.

UNIVERSITY/MEDIA

Virginia Tech continues to thrive under the leadership of President Tim Sands, while Director of Athletics Whit Babcock continues his fifth year in Blacksburg. Plus, complete information on how you can follow the Hokies through all of our official platforms and social media accounts.

TECH TRADITIONS

NOTHING defines Lane Stadium more than the playing of “Enter Sandman” as the team runs out of the tunnel before kickoff.

For the past 18 years, Tech fans have become part of the stadium’s “Enter Sandman” culture. Virginia Tech has played the introduction of the Metallica classic as the team has emerged out of the tunnel and onto Worsham Field since 2000.

HOKIE STONE

Before each home football game, Tech’s players and coaching staff enter Lane Stadium through the tunnel to Worsham Field. As they pass beneath a Hokie Stone they touch for good luck, they see these words: “For those who have passed. For those to come ... Reach for Excellence.”

HOKIE VILLAGE

Located on the turf soccer practice field, across Beamer Way from Lane Stadium, Hokie Village opens up 3.5 hours before kickoff, is free for all, and begins Tech’s gameday experience.

HOKIE WALK

Established in 2001, when the football team arrives on campus about 2.5 hours before kickoff, the Hokies take the short walk up Beamer Way sandwiched on either side by the Tech faithful.

MARCHING VIRGINIANS

Known as "The Spirit of Tech" and established in 1974, the Marching Virginians draw from the general student body and perform at halftime of every home football game.

THE HIGHTY-TIGHTIES

A Regimental Band, the Highty-Tighties are Tech's longest-serving musical organization and the oldest college band in the Commonwealth and is a company in the third battalion of the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets.

SKIPPER

In 1963, three Virginia Tech students and Corps of Cadets members built a cannon and it made its debut against VMI in the two schools' annual Thanksgiving Day game. The students named the cannon "Skipper" after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963. Ever since, Skipper fires outside of Lane Stadium at the opening of Hokie Village, after the national anthem and whenever the Hokies score.

HOKIE POKEY

The spirit teams and the Marching Virginians' tuba section lead the Lane Stadium crowd in Blacksburg's rendition of the Hokie Pokey.

National Attention

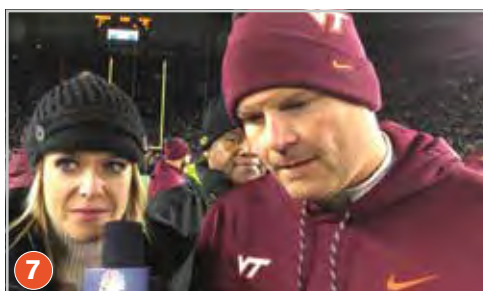

"NESTLED IN THE APPALACHIAN MOUNTAINS IN SOUTHWESTERN VIRGINIA, BLACKSBURG IS A BEAUTIFUL COLLEGE TOWN SETTING. TAILGATE PARTIES DOT VIRTUALLY EVERY OPEN SPACE AROUND LANE STADIUM AND THERE'S A REAL SENSE OF HOSPITALITY TOWARD VISITORS - AT LEAST UNTIL THE GAME STARTS. THE HOKIES ROARING ONTO THE FIELD TO THE STRAINS OF METALLICA'S 'ENTER SANDMAN' MAKES KICKOFF SEEM ALMOST ANTICLIMACTIC. IT IS ONE OF THE BEST SCENES IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL."

- RECE DAVIS - ESPN'S COLLEGE GAMEDAY

ESPN'S THURSDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

Since the inception of ESPN's Thursday Night Football package in 1991, the Hokies are 23-9 (.719) in such games. Those 32 Thursday night appearances are the most of any FBS program. Virginia Tech is a perfect 6-0 on Thursday Night Football against Georgia Tech. The Hokies will host the Yellow Jackets once again on a Thursday night when the two teams meet on Oct. 25.

NFL DRAFT HISTORY

Tremaine (left) and Terrell Edmunds (right) made history in the 2018 NFL Draft by becoming the only pair of brothers to ever be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Tremaine was the 16th overall selection by Buffalo, while Terrell was introduced by Ryan Shazier as the 28th overall pick by Pittsburgh. Eldest brother, Trey, is a running back for the New Orleans Saints. Draft photos courtesy of the NFL.

THE 757 PLAYS HERE!

One of the most talent-laden regions in America, the 757 has sent countless football phenoms to Virginia Tech who have gone on to excel in the NFL. The litany of Pro Bowl performers from the 757 includes Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee Bruce Smith, Michael Vick and DeAngelo Hall, as well as current NFL stars like, Kam Chancellor and Tyrod Taylor.

TWO-TIME NFL COACH OF THE YEAR

Bruce Arians took a long and winding path before finally becoming an NFL head coach. This former Tech quarterback has a penchant for getting the best out of passers at the pro level with his notable pupils including Super Bowl champions Peyton Manning and Ben Roethlisberger, as well as the likes of Carson Palmer and Andrew Luck. He now serves as an analyst for CBS Sports.

Lunch Pail D

The famed Virginia Tech Lunch Pail has come to symbolize the blue-collar approach of the Hokies' defense under longtime defensive coordinator Bud Foster.

In 1995, Foster served as co-defensive coordinator with Rod Sharpless, whose mother-in-law found the original Lunch Pail in Mercerville, New Jersey. The pail once belonged to a coal miner and after a record-setting defensive season, the Lunch Pail became an iconic part of Hokies' lore.

The Pail travels wherever the Hokies go and its care is only entrusted to a defensive leader.

Before the start of every season, a signed mission statement from the defense is placed in The Pail. Then every week, unit goals, team goals and keys to success are placed in The Pail, plus the turf from any road victories.

Since 2007, The Pail has also contained the names of the 32 fallen Hokies taken in the April 16 tragedy.

Darryl Tapp is the only player who has ever earned lifetime possession of an incarnation of The Pail from Foster.

LB Andrew Motuapuaka celebrated Senior Day on 2017 as The #LPD sealed a 20-14 win against Pittsburgh with an epic goal-line stand.

ROB WITTMAN

HERBERT J. THOMAS, JR. (Class of 1944)

Thomas, a former football player, received the Medal of Honor for action on Bougainville Island in the South Pacific during World War II. During a battle, Thomas threw a grenade, but the jungle vines dropped it back among his men. Thomas jumped on the grenade, giving his life to save the lives of his men.

CHRISTOPHER KRAFT (Class of 1944)

Kraft, a former baseball player, is a retired NASA engineer who established the agency's "Mission Control" operation. He served as the agency's first flight director and oversaw the first human spaceflight, orbital flight and spacewalk. The Mission Control Center at the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston is named after Kraft, who graduated from Tech with a degree in aeronautical engineering.

ROBERT RICHARDSON (Class of 1958 and 1960)

Richardson brought international notoriety to Virginia Tech when he shared the 1996 Nobel Prize in Physics with two others for their 1972 discovery of the property of superfluidity in helium-3 atoms. He received both his undergraduate and master's degrees in physics from Virginia Tech and spent nearly his entire career as a professor and physics researcher at Cornell.

IRVING PEDDREW (Class of 2016)

Peddrew was the first African-American student to attend Virginia Tech and the first to attend any historically all-white four-year public institution in the 11 former states of the Confederacy when he enrolled in 1953. Peddrew studied at Tech for three years before moving to California to join the workforce. In 2016, the university presented him with an honorary Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

CHARLIE YATES (Class of 1958)

Yates was the first African-American graduate of Virginia Tech, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering 1958. He later became a college professor and twice returned to Virginia Tech to work. The final time was in 1987 when he served as an associate professor in the aerospace and engineering department. He remained at Tech until his retirement in 2000. In 2010, he passed away after a long bout with leukemia.

HOMER HICKAM (Class of 1964)

As a Corps of Cadets member, Hickam designed Skipper, the iconic cannon Virginia Tech fires during football games when it scores and also at other functions. After graduating with a degree in industrial engineering, Hickam served in the military during the Vietnam War, and after he returned, he worked for NASA. But he is best known as an author, with his memoir "Rocket Boys," becoming a New York Times best seller. The 1999 movie entitled "October Sky" was based off Hickam's book.

HODA KOTB

DAVE CALHOUN (Class of 1979)

Nike Uniforms

As Virginia Tech football entered a new chapter under head coach Justin Fuente in 2016, we did so with a refreshed brand identity that honors our visual past and positions us to attract and engage new student-athletes, faculty and supporters for the future. In partnership with NIKE, Virginia Tech Athletics refreshed its marks and colors to create a consistent look to one of the most recognized brands in all of college athletics.

NIKE and Virginia Tech students-athletes, coaches, administrators and alumni collaborated on the brand evolution program for 18 months, gathering insights on key attributes of the university.

As part of the updated brand identity, all 22 Virginia Tech varsity sports showcase consistent colors, logos, lettering and numerals. To ensure consistency across all sports, Virginia Tech will reinforce the primary VT logo that honors the tradition and creates distinction for the next generation. A new-and-improved incarnation of Tech's football uniforms will debut in 2018.

Lane Stadium

A TRUE HOMEFIELD ADVANTAGE

No. 1

Best Homefield Advantage in College Football (Rivals.com)

Lane Stadium doesn't blow people away by the brute strength of a massive stadium, but with knowledgeable fans that always reach a frenzied pitch at the right time, the Hokies make the most of their numbers.

Every good stadium has at least one end designed for deafening noise levels, and the enclosed South End Zone at Lane Stadium fits the bill perfectly. Holding more than 11,000 screaming Virginia Tech fans, the section amplifies noise and renders audibles useless. That's not to mention the isolation factor. With the nearest major airport nearly 45 minutes away, opponents' fans are never out in force at Lane Stadium.

Scariest Venue for Opposing Teams (ESPN the Magazine)

The two loudest places I've ever seen a game are Lane Stadium and the Orange Bowl, but the Hokies' home crowd is a lot more consistent. The whole place rocks when they crank up "Enter Sandman." I remember watching a decent BC team go there on a Thursday night and completely melt down.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Plans are now underway to transform the Virginia Tech Football strength and conditioning center into a dynamic training area to meet the current and future needs of the program. This $4.5 million renovation and expansion project will nearly double the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center, increasing the total square footage from approximately 6,900 square feet to over 12,300 square feet. A completion date of early 2019 is anticipated.

The new design of the strength and conditioning area will take better advantage of existing space, while moving a refueling station for post-workout nutrition directly adjacent to the current weight room. With the Indoor Practice Facility now providing more than ample space to stretch the squad, the area previously used for that function in the weight room will be available to house more weight racks and stations. Expansive rolling doors similar those utilized in the design of the Indoor Practice Facility will provide quick ingress and egress for large groups of student-athletes. Offices for the strength and conditioning staff will also be relocated to this area.

Ben Hilgart and his staff put the Hokies through a grueling winter strength and conditioning program. A total 28 individuals performed at an elite level during Hilgart's regiment and receiving a coveted hard hat. Senior RB Steven Peoples was crowned the overall hard hat champion for his exemplary performance throughout winter workouts.

#BIGSQUATFRIDAY

Under Hilgart, #BigSquatFriday has become a new Virginia Tech offseason tradition where players finish their Friday workouts by piling plenty of weight on the bar as their coaches and teammates enthusiastically cheer them on. Ricky Walker, Austin Cannon, Dalton Keene and Steven Peoples are among the many players who have distinguished themselves in Tech's strength and conditioning program.

STEVEN PEOPLES

Merryman Center

In September 2017, the team unveiled its new team meeting room that was made possible by the generosity of Virginia Tech Football alum Steve Johnson. The renovated version includes new seating, lighting, wall graphics on the walls and new sound system. Additional plans call for the renovation of the Hokies' nine position meeting rooms, adding similar features. In addition, this comprehensive renovation at the Merryman Center will reconfigure and expand the team's position meeting rooms to compliment the look and feel of the recently-renovated team meeting room.

In 2016, work began in earnest on creating a dramatic entrance to the Merryman Center, which is typically one of the first spots that recruits and their families visit at Virginia Tech. From expansive video displays, to an opening of the Legends Hall area that now provides a panoramic views of Lane Stadium, the Indoor Practice Facility and Practice Fields, a welcoming aura can be felt in this area, right down to the floor's tile which pays homage to Tech's trademark Hokie Stone.

Student-Athlete Performance Center

An estimated $16.5 million project was announced in December 2017 that will create a state-of-the-art Student-Athlete Performance Center that will include significant expansion and innovative renovation, encompassing the entire fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletic Center.

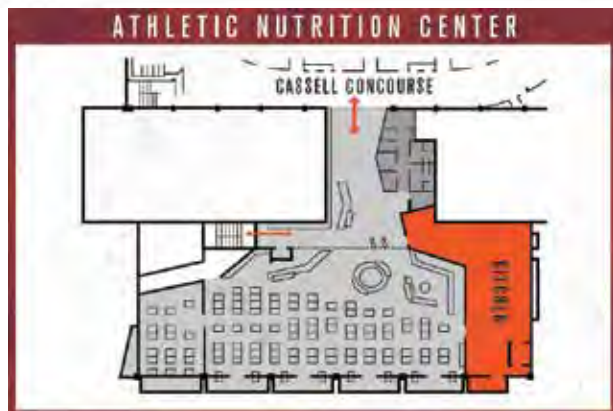

Space for dining, nutrition, donor hospitality, recruiting areas and a seamless connection to the Cassell Coliseum concourse will be part of the new addition. New construction and renovation on the 17,000-square-foot center is anticipated to begin in 2018.

"These upgrades make a huge statement to our commitment and vision to be the preeminent program in the ACC," Director of Athletics Whit Babcock said.

When completed, the center will feature panoramic views of Lane Stadium and a balcony overlooking the practice field. The fourth floor of Jamerson will more than double from its current 6,000 square-foot footprint to 17,000 square feet. A maintenance fund has also been established to keep the new space up to date and visually appealing for years to come.

The project was made possible by a $15.2 million donation by an alumni couple, largest ever gift to athletics and the single-largest outright gift ever given to the university. The gift will benefit student-athletes in all 22 intercollegiate sports.

"Every day, I'm reminded that Virginia Tech is truly a special place," Tech football coach Justin Fuente commented. "We have a couple who not only want the Hokies to compete at the highest level sooner than later, but we also have a shining example that will hopefully move others to make an impact on the lives of Hokies for years to come." Conceptual renderings subject to change.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Was recruited to the University of Oklahoma by Howard Schnellenberger and played two seasons for the Sooners.
- Saw duty in 20 games at OU and led the Sooners to a 30-27 upset in win overtime against No. 25 Texas in the Red River Shootout (10/12/96) in the inaugural Big 12 contest between the two longtime rivals. Also set an OU freshman record with 11 TD passes that season.
- Transferred to Murray State, the same school that Frank Beamer coached prior accepting the Tech job in 1987.
- Set 11 schools records during his two-year career at Murray State, completing 458 of 794 passes (57.7%) for 6,372 yards with 50 touchdowns and 20 interceptions, good for a 140.8 rating. Also scored two rushing TDs and had a 15-yard reception.
- Posted a career-high 553 yards at Southern Illinois (9/11/99) and threw for 470 yards and five TDs in his final game against Kentucky Wesleyan (11/20/99), leading the Racers to a 53-0 victory.
- Named the 1999 Ohio Valley Conference Offensive Player of the Year and was a finalist for the Walter Payton Award.
- Played professionally for the Arena Football League's Oklahoma Wranglers before beginning his coaching career.

WHAT A START IN HOKIE NATION!

- Named Virginia Tech's head coach on Nov. 29, 2015 after orchestrating one of the more dramatic program resurrections in recent college football history at Memphis.
- The Hokies enter their third season under Fuente in 2018, who has compiled a 19-8 record in Blacksburg, the most wins by any Tech coach in his first two campaigns.
- Georgia Tech's Paul Johnson is the only other active ACC head coach who can boast as many victories in his first two seasons at a conference school than Fuente (19).
- With 19 wins in his first two seasons at Tech, Fuente owns more victories than every Tech coach has accumulated in his first three seasons with the exception of B.C. Cabbage, who guided the program to 21 victories from 1921-23.
- The Hokies have finished back-to-back seasons in the final AP Poll for the first time since 2010-11. The Hokies will be seeking to conclude three straight seasons in the AP Top 25 for the first time since doing it eight consecutive years under Frank Beamer (2004-11).
- Fuente is one of only six FBS head coaches to register nine or more wins each of the past four seasons.
- Tech concluded the 2017 season with a 9-4 mark, finishing the year No. 24 in the AP Top 25 and No. 25 in the Amway USA Today Coaches Poll.
- Tech extended its streak of consecutive bowl appearances to 25 straight seasons in 2017 under Fuente, the longest active streak recognized by the NCAA. Should Tech earn its 26th straight bowl berth in 2018, that mark that would give VT sole possession of the third-longest streak in NCAA history.
- The Hokies have won 14 consecutive Commonwealth Cup games over Virginia, including both matchups under Fuente.
- Tech has won 17 consecutive games during Fuente's tenure when leading at halftime.
- VT owns a 6-1 mark under Fuente in games immediately following a loss.
- Fuente's well-deserved reputation for his work with quarterbacks became apparent once again in 2017 as QB Josh Jackson orchestrated the most prolific season of any freshman in Tech history.

- Jackson's 2,991 passing yards were a VT freshman record and the most of any FBS freshman in 2017, while his 20 TDs and 135.2 rating were second among FBS freshmen behind Georgia QB Jake Fromm (24 TDs, 160.1 ranking).
- Tech's traditionally stout Lunch Pail Defense also lived up to its reputation in 2017, pitching three shutouts.
- The #LPD finished the 2017 season fourth in the FBS in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and posted an FBS-best three shutouts, while only Michigan (26.1%) held foes to a lower third-down conversion rate than VT (25.2).
- Virginia Tech continued its special teams success under Fuente as the Hokies tied for second in the FBS with six blocked kicks, finished second with 413 punt return yards and the led the nation in fewest return yards allowed with 335.
- In total, the Hokies registered five return scores in 2017 (two punt return TDs, two INT return TDs and one fumble return TD).

2016 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR

- The consensus 2016 ACC Coach of the Year, Fuente was also named the top first-year FBS head coach in the nation by the Football Writers Association of America, sharing that honor with USC's Clay Helton.
- Tech finished the 2016 season ranked No. 16 in both the AP Poll and the Coaches Poll, marking the highest final mark for the Hokies since 2010 (No. 16 AP, No. 15 Coaches).
- Virginia Tech, Penn State, Colorado, West Virginia and Western Michigan all finished in the AP Top 25 after getting zero votes in the AP Preseason Poll.
- Tech's 10 wins were the team's most since 2011 and the most ever by a first-year Virginia Tech head coach, surpassing the previous mark of nine wins by C.P. Miles in 1905.
- Fuente led Tech to its sixth ACC Coastal Division title and its first since 2010, sending the Hokies to the ACC Championship Game where Tech lost a narrow 42-35 decision to eventual national champion Clemson.
- The Hokies did not lose consecutive games under Fuente in 2016 as the Hokies extended the nation's longest active bowl streak with their 24th straight appearance.
- Virginia Tech's 35-24 victory over Arkansas in the Belk Bowl marked the largest comeback in school history. The Hokies were down 24-0 at halftime before scoring 35 unanswered points en route to victory, making Fuente the initial coach to guide the Hokies to a bowl victory in his debut season.
- The Hokies broke 10 offensive single-season records in 2016, most notably registering school marks for points (490), total first downs (330), TD passes (31), passing yards (3,660) and yards of total offense (6,223).
- Among ACC squads, only Clemson (26.9) averaged more first downs per game than Virginia Tech (23.6) in 2016.
- The Hokies also returned to their dominant defensive ways in Fuente's debut campaign as Tech ranked second in the nation in third-down defense (27.5%), while ranking fourth among Power Five squads in tackles for loss (113.0) and fifth in opponent completion percentage (50.1).
- Virginia Tech also experienced a special teams resurgence as the Hokies returned to its Beamer Ball roots, blocking four kicks (three FGs, one punt), while registering TDs on a punt return and a blocked FG return.

1. Fuente and the Hokies hoisted The Black Diamond Trophy after a 31-24 win over West Virginia to begin the 2017 season.
2. Tech's head coach made his debut on the red carpet at the 2018 NFL Draft as the Edmunds family enjoyed a historic evening.
3. Under Fuente, a Tech special teams contributor earns the honorary Beamer Ball No. 25 jersey every game, including LB Andrew Motuapuaka, who wore it for Senior Day in 2017.
4. ESPN's College GameDay returned to Blacksburg in 2017, as Fuente saluted the Tech faithful following an interview with Maria Taylor.

The Fuentes — Justin and Jenny with daughters Caroline, Charlotte, and Cecilia.

FUN FACTS ON THE FUENTES

- Fuente's great grandfather, Jack, supported his family during the Great Depression as a professional wrestler under the nicknames "The Spanish Red Devil" and "Spanish Jack".
- The most popular conversation piece in Fuente's office is a WWE title belt that was presented by Memphis native Jerry "The King" Lawler after Fuente's Memphis squad won a share of the 2014 American Athletic Conference championship.
- Other notable pieces of wrestling memorabilia in Fuente's office include a pair of personalized photos from Hall of Fame wrestling announcer Jim Ross, who once served as a high school football referee in Oklahoma.
- Current Virginia Tech offensive line coach Vance Vice held that same role at Murray State when Fuente was the Racers' quarterback. Vice is also an Oklahoma native and once played in a high school game where Ross was an official.
- Jenny was an accomplished athlete in her own right as a volleyball student-athlete at Illinois State. The 1998 Missouri Valley Conference Newcomer of the Year was a first-team all-conference choice in 1999. After major shoulder surgery, sidelined her in 2000, she returned to the court to earn second-team All-MVC honors in 2001 and first-team accolades as a senior in 2001. She holds a business degree from Illinois State in addition to earning a master's degree in kinesiology and recreation with an emphasis in sport management.
- An avid golfer and fisherman in his limited free time, Fuente enjoyed the thrill of playing Pebble Beach in June.
- The Fuentes are the proud owners of two dogs – Petey & Bear.

THE MEMPHIS TURNAROUND

- Compiled a 19-6 record in his final two seasons at Memphis, guiding the Tigers to back-to-back bowl berths after inheriting a program that went 5-31 in three years before his arrival.
- Unanimous selection as 2014 American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year when he led Memphis to its first conference title since 1971.
- Guided Memphis to a 15-game winning streak that included a 37-24 win over No. 13 Ole Miss (10/17/15).
- Memphis posted a 9-3 regular season mark in 2015, capped by a 63-0 win vs. SMU in Fuente's finale as the Tigers' head coach.
- The Tigers concluded a 10-3 season in 2014 with a 55-48 double-OT triumph over BYU in the Miami Beach Bowl, the first 10-win season for the Tigers since 1938.
- Fuente's final game as Memphis head coach was a 63-0 win vs. SMU (11/28/15). QB Paxton Lynch tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of that game. Lynch threw for a school-record 28 TD passes on the 2015 season.
- Memphis outscored its opponents by an average margin of 20.7 points per game during a run of 15 consecutive wins from 2014-15, scoring 652 points (43.5 ppg), while allowing only 341 (22.7 ppg).
- Memphis scored 471 points in 2014, shattering the old school record of 430 points set in 2004, while allowing a mere 19.5 points per game, a figure that ranked 11th among FBS squads.
- The Tigers went +11 (31 takeaways/20 giveaways) in the turnover column in 2014, finishing the campaign ranked in both the AP Top 25 and in the USA Today/Amway Coaches Polls, a first in school history.
- Fuente's squad led Conference USA in total defense in league games in 2012, giving up just 331.6 ypg.
- The Tigers also excelled on special teams under Fuente as Tom Hornsey won the 2013 Ray Guy Award as the nation's top collegiate punter.

BUILDING THE BLUEPRINT AT TCU

- Earned a well-deserved reputation not only as a top recruiter, but also as one of football's most innovative offensive minds during a record-setting five-year stint on head coach Gary Patterson's staff at TCU (2007-11).
- It was also at TCU where Fuente began a track record of developing quarterbacks and preparing them for NFL futures.
- During his final three seasons as play caller, QBs coach and co-offensive coordinator at TCU from 2008-10, the Horned Frogs produced a 36-3 overall record and went on a 24-game win streak in the Mountain West Conference.
- From 2008-10, TCU was the only program in the country that finished in the Top 10 in both the AP Poll and USA Today Coaches Poll all three of those campaigns. TCU also made back-to-back appearances in BCS bowls with Fuente on the staff, registering a 2011 Rose Bowl victory over No. 5 Wisconsin.
- In 2010, TCU set single-season school marks in touchdowns (73), points scored (541), total offense (6,199 yards) and first downs (327).
- The Horned Frogs also ranked fourth nationally in scoring (41.6 ppg), sixth in passing efficiency (166.9), 10th in rushing (247.4 ypg) and 12th in total offense (476.9 ypg) in 2010.
- His prowess for mentoring quarterbacks garnered national attention as TCU QB Andy Dalton flourished under his tutelage. From 2009-10, Dalton led TCU to a 25-1 record and set the Mountain West career record for total offense (11,925 yards).
- TCU was the only school in the nation to have two different quarterbacks rank in the top 10 in the country in passing efficiency from 2009-11.
- After Dalton completed his career as TCU's career leader in virtually every passing category, QB Casey Pachall picked up where Dalton left off. In 2011, Pachall led TCU to an 11-2 mark, completing 66.5 percent of his throws (228 of 343) with 25 TDs and seven INTs.

FCS ROOTS AT ILLINOIS STATE

- The composition of the Fuente's current staff traces some key roots to his initial coaching assignment at Illinois State as four of his nine assistants – Brad Cornelsen, Galen Scott, Vance Vice and Holmon Wiggins – worked with him there. In an ironic twist, the hometown of Bud Foster (Nokomis, Ill.) is actually less than 100 miles from Normal, Illinois.
- After beginning his tenure at Illinois State coaching quarterbacks in 2001, he added offensive coordinator duties to his assignment for his final three seasons with the Redbirds (2004-06).
- Under his direction in 2005, Illinois State ranked fifth in both total offense (477.6 ypg) and scoring (39.2 ppg) among FCS squads.

COACHING INFLUENCES

BILL BLANKENSHIP

Fuente played for Blankenship at Tulsa's Union High School. Blankenship later served as head coach at Tulsa (2011-14) and worked with Fuente at Memphis (2015). He currently is the head coach at Owasso High School in Owasso, Oklahoma.

"I'd still run through a brick wall for him. Many years later, he's still my coach, but he's also become a great friend, confidant and mentor. I'm eternally grateful for everything he's taught me over the years, lessons that have extended far beyond the football field. He's taught me about life, how to treat people, how to deal with success and how to overcome adversity." – Fuente

DICK WINDER

The late Winder served as Oklahoma offensive coordinator when Fuente was quarterbacking the Sooners in the 1990s. Winder retired as Gary Patterson's quarterbacks coach at TCU following the 2006 season and encouraged Patterson to interview Fuente for that position.

"Coach Winder was as rough and tough and as hard as they come. I would have jumped in front of a train for him, though. He was the polar opposite of Coach Blankenship personality-wise, but what an amazing coach. While my demeanor may be different, a lot of techniques and idiosyncracies of coaching offense and quarterbacks specifically, I took from Coach Winder." – Fuente

GARY PATTERSON

Before accepting the challenge of rebuilding the Memphis program, Fuente spent five invaluable seasons working with Patterson at TCU from 2007-11 as the Horned Frogs emerged as a national power.

"I patterned many organizational pieces of our program based on the structure of what Coach Patterson had developed at TCU. Working with Gary really prepared me in a number of facets to become a head coach. Gary's expertise was on defense, but I really appreciated the balance he struck between giving us his input on the offense and then giving us the freedom to operate, while being mindful of the overall picture with defense and special teams. It was a great lesson and it's a style I try to emulate with our staff." – Fuente

WR ANTHONY MILLER D2-2018 – Chicago
Memphis First-team All-America had 238 catches for 3,590 yards with 37 TDs at Memphis

T MARSHALL NEWHOUSE D5-2010 – Green Bay

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Respected as one of the nation's top coaching minds and one of college football's most decorated defensive coordinators, enters his 32nd season at Virginia Tech.
- Elevated to the post of associate head coach by current Tech head coach Justin Fuente after enjoying a historic 29-season run under Frank Beamer that began in 1987. Interestingly, both Fuente and Foster played at Murray State more than a decade apart.
- Architect of Tech's famed "Lunch Pail Defense," Foster is the longest continually tenured FBS assistant coach at the same school, holding that position with the Hokies since 1995 (as co-coordinator).
- Has been a key component in helping the Hokies register the nation's longest active bowl streak recognized by the NCAA, a 25-year stretch that began in 1993.
- Beginning in 1995, the Hokies began a stretch where the program produced 13 seasons with 10 or more victories during a 17-season span.
- Won the 2006 Broyles Award, given annually to the top assistant coach in the country, and was a finalist on three other occasions (1999, 2001, 2005).
- Named the Division I-A Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach magazine after helping the Hokies to the 1999 national championship game on the strength of a defense that led the nation in scoring defense at 10.5 ppg.
- His defenses have led the nation in a major defensive statistical category nine times and have placed in the top five 44 different times.
- Foster's 2017 defense led the nation in opponent completion percentage (48.60%), was second on third downs (26.2), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and were fifth in first downs allowed (290).

- Virginia Tech has finished in the top five in scoring defense on seven different occasions under Foster. In addition to ranking fourth in 2017, Tech led the nation in both 1999 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001, 2004 and 2005. The Hokies registered six straight top 10 finishes in scoring defense from 2004-09.
- The Hokies led the nation in total defense in both 2005 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001.
- His 2006 defense was arguably one of Virginia Tech's finest as the Hokies led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Since Foster took over sole reins as Tech's defensive coordinator in 1996, the Hokies lead all FBS programs in sacks (813.0), sack yardage (-5,573), interceptions (373) and third-down percentage (31.2).
- Over that same span, only Alabama (16.2 ppg) and Ohio State (16.6 ppg) have been better in scoring than Virginia Tech (17.5).
- Since the start of the 1996 season the Hokies are second among FBS squads in pass defense (189.0 ypg) and takeaways (596), while ranking third in total defense (305.7 ypg) and fifth in rushing defense (116.7 ypg).
- Thanks to his opportunistic defenses, Virginia Tech owns an unbelievable +124 turnover differential (596 takes/472 gives) dating back to 1996, while 53 different defensive players have scored a total of 81 touchdowns.
- Blacksburg has truly become a no-passing zone under his direction. Since the start of the 1996 campaign, Tech has permitted the lowest completion percentage (50.4) of any FBS team, while owning the best INT percentage (4.4) of any Power Five squad and the third-best TD/INT differential (0.79) over that span.
- Only Florida (106.2) has held opponents to a lower composite passer rating than VT (106.7) since 1996.

- Going back to 1996 NFL Draft, 45 of his defensive pupils have been drafted including 11 players picked in the first or second rounds. Seven of those 11 first or second-round selections have been defensive backs, including a trio of first rounders in CBs Kyle Fuller (D1-14, Chicago), DeAngelo Hall (D1-04, Atlanta) and S Terrell Edmunds (D1-18, Pittsburgh).
- Coached three of the four Fuller brothers – Vinnie, Kyle and Kendall – part of the only quartet of brothers in NFL history to all be drafted and all attend the same college.
- Coached two of the three Edmunds brothers – Tremaine and Terrell – the only pair of brothers to both be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft.
- Hall earned three Pro Bowl berths during his pro career, while fifth-round pick Kam Chancellor has earned a Super Bowl ring, appeared in two Super Bowls and been named to four Pro Bowl squads with Seattle.
- Two of Foster's players - DT Tim Settle and CB Greg Stroman - were both drafted by Washington in 2018, where another of his pupils (Torrian Gray) serves as defensive backs coach.
- Postseason honors have become synonymous with the Hokies' defense with at least one defensive player earning All-America honors of some form in 18 different seasons.
- Under Foster, Virginia Tech produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.
- The Hokies have also two BIG EAST defensive players of the year during Foster's tenure – Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995. Brown would later earn a Super Bowl ring with the Baltimore Ravens.
- Began his career as a GA at Murray State (1981-82) before eventually making the move with Beamer to Blacksburg in 1987.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Adam Lechtenberg originally joined Virginia Tech in 2017 as director of player development.
- Was promoted to assistant head coach/executive director of player development in 2018.
- Lechtenberg works directly with head coach Justin Fuente in overseeing the program's recruiting efforts and managing Tech's roster, in addition to serving as the team's 10th assistant coach.
- "Adam has earned the opportunity to take on a larger role with our program," Fuente said upon promoting Lechtenberg in January 2018. "I implicitly trust his judgment and skills as a talent evaluator. He shares my vision for the program and understands what we need to accomplish on a daily basis. Adam also knows the type of people and the traits of players who will help our team improve. I also have a tremendous appreciation for all the positives he brings to our coaching staff as a teacher and innovator. This expanded role allows us to take full advantage of Adam's many skills as our program continues to evolve."
- The Butte, Nebraska native manages all aspects of Tech's roster with Fuente from scholarship allocation to directing the team's walk-on program. His new designation will also permit him to represent Tech on the road as a recruiter and engage directly with high school coaches across the nation.
- During his tenure working with Fuente at Memphis from 2012-15, Lechtenberg served as director of player personnel and acted as a liaison between the football program and academics, admissions and housing.
- Lechtenberg oversaw the Tigers' walk-on program that made a substantial impact on the on-field turnaround at Memphis under Fuente. In total, 11 of his walk-ons eventually earned scholarships at Memphis, while 23 made major contributions.
- Spent the 2016 season as passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach at the University of Tennessee at Martin. In addition to his on-field coaching duties, his recruiting territory included Alabama, Tennessee and junior colleges.
- Began his coaching career as an offensive graduate assistant working with Fuente at TCU from 2007-09. He spent the 2010-11 seasons as co-offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Central Connecticut State.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Three-time All-Big South wide receiver at VMI from 2002-05, finished his career with 162 receptions for 2,101 yards (13.0 avg.) with 12 touchdowns for the Keydets.
- His 162 catches rank second in school history behind only Mark Stock (165) while his yardage tally is third in VMI history.
- Owns a share of a school record with a reception in 34 consecutive games.
- Racked up 58 catches for 742 yards and three TDs as a senior in 2005, tying as the second-best season reception total at the school. Also had 57 catches as a junior in 2004.
- Registered two games with 10 catches during his career, a mark that ties as the second-best single-game tally in VMI history, while his five 100-yard contests are the second-highest total in the VMI record book.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Talented and versatile coach enters his fourth season at Virginia Tech, his third coaching running backs.
- Originally joined Tech as wide receivers coach in 2015.
- Selected to participate in NFL's Bill Walsh Diversity Coaching Fellowship with the Washington Redskins during camp in July 2017 and with the Los Angeles Chargers in July 2018.
- Born and raised in the heart of the 757, Burden hails from an area that has served as a hotbed of talent for the Hokies for generations. Also owns experience coaching at Fork Union Military Academy, a school that has produced a distinguished pedigree of NFL performers.
- Helped groom RB Sam Rogers into a multiple-purpose offensive threat who was drafted by the L.A. Rams.
- A record-setting collegiate receiver in his own right at VMI, helped develop WR Isaiah Ford into Tech's first pass catcher to ever produce a 1,000-yard season in 2015 when he set a single-season school record with 1,164 yards, including a 12-catch, 227-yard effort in the Independence Bowl.
- Also played a role in the development of WR Cam Phillips, who caught 49 passes for 582 yards with a pair of TDs under his tutelage in 2015.
- Joined the Hokies after a three-year stint as the passing game coordinator and coaching wide receivers for Old Dominion (2012-14).
- Prior to Virginia Tech, Burden spent three seasons at Old Dominion (2012-14) in Norfolk, Virginia, where he groomed 1,000-yard wideouts such as Antonio Vaughan, Zach Pascal, Larry Pinkard and Nick Mayers.
- Old Dominion was one of 13 FBS schools in 2014 to have three players with 40 or more catches and one of 16 schools to have four players with 30 or more receptions.
- Vaughan produced his best collegiate season with 63 catches for a league-high 1,019 yards under Burden's guidance in 2014 as his 12 touchdowns tied for fourth among FCS programs.
- With Burden serving as passing game coordinator in 2013, Old Dominion ranked fourth in the FCS in scoring offense (42.3 ppg), fourth in passing offense (359.4 ypg) and seventh in total offense (519.0 ypg) as Pinkard led the squad with 68 catches for 1,020 yards.
- Helped lead the most prolific FCS offense in 2012 as the Monarchs led the nation in scoring (45.2 ppg), total offense (548.2 ypg), passing offense (393.8 ypg) and TD passes (44). Mayers tied for second among FCS performers with a school-record 16 TD catches. He also set single-season school records with 79 catches for 1,233 yards earning All-America honors from College Sports Madness and Beyond Sports Network.
- Developed WR Tre Gray into a record-setting receiver at Richmond in 2011. He earned third team All-America honors from the AP after leading the Colonial Athletic Association and setting Richmond single-season records with 95 receptions for 1,187 yards.
- Served as an integral part of one of the most successful start-up programs in recent history as Old Dominion returned to the field in 2009 after a 68-year absence.
- Joined the ODU staff as defensive backs coach in 2007, helping to build a roster from scratch as the Monarchs got on the field in 2009 and produced a 9-2 mark, the best record for a first-year program in the modern era of college football.
- Embarked on his coaching career in 2006 at Fork Union Military Academy where he coached wide receivers and defensive backs while also serving as the passing game coordinator and recruiting liaison.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- First NCAA Division II quarterback to pass for at least 4,000 yards and rush for at least 2,000 yards during his career at Missouri Southern State from 1995-98.
- Missouri Southern State Athletics Hall of Fame (2014).
- Was on the same Oklahoma roster as current Tech head coach Justin Fuente in the 1995 Oil Bowl, an annual Oklahoma vs. Texas high school summer all-star game.
- Earned Oklahoma all-state honors in football, basketball and track at Texhoma High School.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Prolific collegiate QB enters his third season as Tech's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.
- Continued his track record of tutoring productive quarterbacks in 2017 as QB Josh Jackson authored the best freshman campaign of any passer in Tech history.
- Jackson's 2,991 passing yards were a VT freshman record and the most of any FBS freshman in 2017, while his 20 TD passes and 135.2 rating were second nationally among freshmen.
- Jackson also led all FBS freshman QBs by averaging 255.0 ypg of total offense in 2017, while his 59.6 completion percentage ranked second.
- Under Cornelsen's direction, Virginia Tech tied or broke 10 offensive single-season records in 2016.
- With Cornelsen calling the plays in 2016, the Hokies tied or set school bests in points (490), total TDs (61), first downs (330), passing first downs (172), TD passes (31), total offense (6,223), completion pct. (62.1%), passing yards (3,660), pass completions (279) and total plays (1,087).
- The Hokies also ranked fifth in the ACC in scoring (35.0 ppg), total offense (444.5 ypg), rushing (183.1 ypg), pass efficiency (149.8) and time of possession (31:15).
- Helped QB Jerod Evans register one of the most productive seasons of any quarterback in school annals in 2016.
- In his only season of FBS competition, Evans set eight single-season records for the Hokies, including marks for total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546), TD passes (29), total TDs accounted for (41) and rushing yards by a QB (846).
- Along with current Tech head coach Justin Fuente, helped take a Memphis program that had gone 3-21 in the two seasons prior to their arrival to a squad that went 19-7 and earned back-to-back bowl berths in 2014-15.
- Joined Fuente in grooming unheralded two-star quarterback prospect, Paxton Lynch, into a first-round NFL Draft pick.
- During his final two campaigns for the Tigers, Lynch completed 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 TDs and 13 INTs (147.9 rating).
- By contrast, in the three seasons (2009-11) prior to Lynch's arrival at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 5-31 record, threw for 7,182 yards with 37 TDs and 36 INTs.
- Under Cornelsen's tutelage in 2015, Lynch threw for 3,776 yards, with 28 touchdowns and only four interceptions. He tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of Memphis' 63-0 victory over SMU.
- In 2015, under his direction as co-offensive coordinator, Memphis finished 11th nationally in scoring offense (40.2 ppg), ranking ahead of both squads who played in the College Football Playoff Championship Game – Clemson (16th – 38.5 ppg) and Alabama (30th – 35.1 ppg).

- Memphis was particularly efficient on third down in 2015, converting 48.8 percent (101 of 207) of the time to rank eighth in the FBS.
- In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and scored 60 TDs on the ground, producing 11 games with 200 or more net rushing yards. By contrast, the Tigers averaged a mere 87.8 rushing ypg and scored 15 rushing TDs in 2010-11.
- The Tigers set a school record for points in consecutive seasons (993 in 2014-15) and boasted a +19 turnover differential (53 takes/34 gives) over that timeframe.
- In 2014, with Cornelsen as the quarterbacks coach, Lynch guided the Tigers to a Miami Beach Bowl win over BYU. Lynch was the MVP after completing 24 of 46 for 306 yards and four touchdowns. He also ran for three scores, tying an FBS record for touchdowns responsible for in a bowl game.
- In 2012, Cornelsen mentored Jacob Karam who completed 64.2 percent (176 of 274) of his passes, while throwing 14 touchdowns and a school-low three interceptions.
- Prior to joining the staff at Memphis, Cornelsen was the offensive coordinator at Northeastern State, a Division II school in Tahlequah, Oklahoma. In his final season there in 2011, he helped the offense become among the nation's leaders in passing offense (13th, 291 ypg) and total offense (22nd, 440 ypg). NSU's seven wins that season were the program's most in 11 years.
- In 2011, Northeastern State receiver Trey McVay became a first-team All-American while in Cornelsen's offense, catching 82 passes for 1,533 yards. He set a school single-season record for receiving yards. His 425-yard performance vs. Harding set an NCAA single-game record at any level for most receptions in a game. His 16 catches and six TDs in that contest also established school records.
- Landed his initial full-time coaching position at Illinois State in 2003, where Fuente also served as an assistant on the Redbirds' staff from 2001-06. Developed QB Luke Drone developed into an All-Gateway Conference choice at Illinois State in 2007.
- In 2005, Cornelsen helped Laurent Robinson become an All-America selection and earn conference offensive player of the year honors after he set a Missouri Valley record with 86 catches for a school-record 1,465 yards. Robinson's 292-yard game against Indiana State in 2005 still stands as a conference record.
- Robinson concluded his career at Illinois State with 192 catches for 3,007 yards with 29 TDs, a yardage total that still ranks sixth in Missouri Valley annals.
- Spent the spring of 2001 at NW Missouri State working as a graduate assistant under legendary NCAA Division II head coach Mel Tjeerdsma before taking a similar role at Oklahoma State under head coach Les Miles.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran coach and former NFL player enters his third season with Virginia Tech as cornerbacks coach.
- Thanks to a trio of talented corners in All-ACC First Team selection Greg Stroman, along with Brandon Facyson and Adonis Alexander, no FBS team allowed a lower completion percentage (48.60%) than Tech in 2017.
- Tech's stingy 2017 defense ranked second in the nation on third down (26.2%), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and fifth in first downs allowed (290).
- Quickly made an impact on Tech's secondary in 2016 as the Hokies boasted the fifth-lowest opponent completion percentage in the nation (50.1) and ranked 10th with a 111.1 opponent passer rating. Only Michigan (21.0%) permitted a lower third-down percentage than Virginia Tech (27.5%).
- Served as defense coordinator and secondary coach for Ruffin McNeill at East Carolina from 2010-12 after working with McNeill on the defensive staff at Texas Tech.
- During his distinguished coaching career, has been a member of staffs that have won five conference titles and made 14 bowl appearances.
- 11 of his defensive backs have gone on to sign professional contracts.
- In 2015, WVU's defense led all Power Five schools by forcing 23 interceptions and ranked second with 31 total takeaways. Mitchell's cornerbacks accounted for 11 of those INTs, finishing the year with 28 pass breakups. The Mountaineers finished the year with a +9 turnover margin (31 takes/22 gives) to rank 15th among FBS squads.
- Daryl Worley tied for third among Power Five players with six interceptions and was eighth among FBS performers with 12 passes defended.
- The Mountaineers also finished eighth among FBS squads in highest percentage of opponent three downs and out in 2011, while ranking No. 11 among Power Five squads in third-down defense (31.7%).
- In 2014, WVU's defense was eighth among Power Five teams in third-down defense (31.4%) and were No. 15 among FBS squads in terms of forcing three-and-outs. The Mountaineers also ranked No. 18 among Power Five teams in opposing passer efficiency (116.2).
- In 2013, WVU's defense was No. 4 among FBS squads with 16 fumbles recovered and ranked 14th among Power Five squads with 28 turnovers forced.

- In 2012, East Carolina tied UCF for first place in the Eastern Division of Conference USA with a 7-1 league record and made its second bowl appearance in three years with Mitchell serving as defensive coordinator and secondary coach.
- Spearheaded the installation of a 3-4 scheme in 2011, an alignment that produced immediate results and earned ECU a reputation as one of most improved units nationally as the Pirates allowed 947 total net yards and 185 fewer points than the previous season.
- Tutored cornerback Emanuel Davis to back-to-back All-Conference USA selections and developed Damon Magazu into a ball-hawking free safety who led the team with four interceptions and three fumble recoveries in 2011.
- Accompanied McNeill to East Carolina after a four-season stint at Texas Tech.
- Jamar Wall led the secondary with 62 tackles and two interceptions in 2008 and earned All-Big 12 honors in 2009 after ranking second nationally with 17 passes defended.
- The Red Raiders pass defense led the Big 12 Conference in net passing yards in both 2006 and 2007. In 2007, Texas Tech limited foes to 188.4 ypg in that department, a figure that ranked 13th among FBS squads.
- Worked on the staff of legendary coach LaVell Edwards at BYU after a stellar playing career for the Cougars.
- Helped guide the team to five bowl appearances and a No. 5 national ranking following a 14-1 campaign in 1996, as well as back-to-back Western Athletic Conference championships.
- While at BYU, he also served as the faculty advisor to the Black Student Union from 1995-02.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- A seventh-round draft choice of Atlanta in the 1991 NFL Draft, played in 36 games over three seasons for the Falcons.
- All-WAC cornerback who played in four bowls and ran the opening leg of BYU's All-America 400M relay team.
- Still holds the school record for the longest interception return, a 97-yard effort against New Mexico in 1989.
- His 13 career interceptions stand fifth in the school's record book, while his five picks in 1989 were a season high.

BOWL GAMES PLAYED (1)

1990	All-American	Southern Miss

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Served as a standout linebacker at Southern Miss from 1990-93 and was selected as team captain in 1993.
- Was one of only three true freshmen to play on the 1990 All-American Bowl squad.
- Earned a spot on the All-South team and the National Independent squad in both 1992 and 1993.
- Inducted into the Southern Miss M-Club Hall of Fame at the Spring 2003 banquet.
- Notable college teammates of Nix at Southern Miss included his brother, Derrick, as well as Pro Football Hall of Fame QB Brett Favre.
- Nix made two appearances at Lane Stadium as a player for Southern Miss as the Golden Eagles visited Tech in both 1990 and 1992.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran defensive coach and former collegiate linebacker enters his initial season as Tech's safeties coach.
- Owning over 25 years of college football experience as a coach and a player, his impressive resume includes stints as a defensive coordinator at both Ole Miss and South Carolina.
- Joins the Hokies after spending the 2017 season as a defensive analyst at Texas A&M on Kevin Sumlin's staff.
- Prior to his arrival at Texas A&M, spent five seasons at Middle Tennessee State, working as co-defensive coordinator/linebackers coach from 2012-14 and defensive coordinator/linebackers coach from 2015-16.
- The Blue Raiders made dramatic improvements in a number of key categories in Nix's initial season in 2012, most notably tying for third in the nation with 16 fumble recoveries.
- Nix's defenses at MTSU consistently ranked in the nation's top 25 in terms of forcing takeaways, tying for fifth in that department among FBS squads with 33 turnovers forced in 2013, a figure was higher than all Power Five squads except for Arizona State and Oklahoma State, who also had 33.
- Served as defensive coordinator under Houston Nutt at Ole Miss (2008-11) on a staff that also included current Tech assistant James Shibley.
- His defenses helped lead Ole Miss to consecutive Cotton Bowl appearances in 2009 and 2010 as he added the title of assistant head coach to his responsibilities for the 2010-11 seasons.
- Ole Miss posted 92.0 TFL and 34.0 sacks in 2009, ranking first and second in the SEC, respectively.
- In 2008, the Rebels ranked fourth in the nation in rushing defense (86.5 ypg), led by All-America DT Peria Jerry and future All-SEC DT Jerrell Powe.
- Enjoyed his initial stint as an SEC defensive coordinator in serving in that role and also coaching linebackers for head coach Steve Spurrier at South Carolina (2005-07).
- S Ko Simpson earned All-America accolades under his tutelage, while CB Jonathan Joseph developed into first-round NFL Draft pick.
- In 2007, the Gamecocks led the SEC and ranked fifth nationally in pass defense, allowing just 168.8 ypg.
- Promoted to assistant head coach in 2006 as South Carolina's defense surrendered a mere 18.7 ppg., an improvement of 4.5 ppg fewer than 2005 despite returning just one starter from the previous season.
- Embarked on his coaching career at his alma mater as defensive tackles coach at his alma mater in 1995, beginning a decade-long run that also saw him coach outside linebackers (1996-99) and defensive backs (2000).

- Was elevated to defensive coordinator/inside linebackers coach, a position he held from 2001-04.
- From 2001-03, Southern Miss ranked in the top 15 in the nation in both scoring defense and pass efficiency defense each season.
- Named a finalist for the Broyles Award in 2003.
- Mentored 12 All-Conference USA selections, four Conference USA Defensive Players of the Year and six All-America selections at his alma mater.
- Southern Miss won four Conference USA titles and earned seven bowl berths during his tenure.
- His many notable pupils coached in Hattiesburg included a pair of future NFL Pro Bowl performers in CB Patrick Surtain and LB Adalius Thomas.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Regarded as one of the nation's top special teams coaches, enters his third season serving as special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Virginia Tech.
- Joined the Hokies after working with current Tech head coach Justin Fuente at Memphis.
- Was named the 2017 Special Teams Coach of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Tech's special teams enjoyed a phenomenal season in 2017, tying for the FBS lead with five blocked punts and tying for second in the nation with eight total blocked kicks.
- The Hokies led all Power Five squads in 2017 by permitting 335 combined punt and kickoff return yards.
- Tech ranked fifth in the nation, registering 59 touchbacks on kickoffs, while only two teams permitted fewer KO returns.
- The Hokies' punt return team ranked second among FBS squads with 413 yards, including a pair of TDs by CB Greg Stroman, who finished his career as one of the top return men in school history.
- Successfully integrated Australian punter Oscar Bradburn into the Hokies' special teams in 2017, a player who had never played American football until enrolling at Virginia Tech.
- In 2016, VT blocked a punt and three field goals, while returning both a punt and a blocked field goal for touchdowns.
- K Joey Slye played his final two seasons under Shibest, departing Blacksburg with VT career records for scoring (403 points) and made FGs (78).
- Slye led all ACC kickers and set a single-season Tech record for a kicker with 118 points in 2016, as he hit 20 of 27 FGs (74.1%) and converted 58 PATs.
- Slye also set a Tech single-game record with 21 points in a 39-36 win at Pitt (10/27/16) as he tied an ACC record with six made FGs in the contest.
- Bucky Hodges thrived in a hybrid TE/WR role in 2016, setting career highs with 48 catches for 691 yards, while tying a career mark with seven TDs.
- Brought 25 years of coaching experience with him to Blacksburg, including 12 seasons as a special teams coach in the SEC at both Ole Miss and Arkansas.
- His 2015 Memphis squad ranked seventh in the country in overall special teams efficiency via Football Outsiders, while his 2014 unit was the best in the FBS according to ESPN.
- Memphis was the only collegiate program to have a semifinalist for both the Ray Guy Award and the Lou Groza Award in 2014.
- A three-time Groza Award semifinalist, Elliott connected on 76.9 percent (60 of 78) of his FGs the past three seasons under Shibest with eight makes from 50 or more yards, including a school-record 56-yard FG at South Florida (11/16/13).
- Elliott established Memphis records in 2015 with 23 made field goals and 132 points. He connected on 82.1 percent (23 of 28) FGs and nailed all 63 of his PATs.
- Special teams coverage units coached by Shibest haven't allowed a kick return or punt return TD over the past seven seasons. His squads ranked among the nation's top 10 in net kickoff coverage three of the past six years.
- Memphis ranked fourth among FBS squads in punt coverage in 2014, allowing 2.77 yards per return.
- Memphis WR Keiwone Malone concluded his collegiate career with a school-record 83 punt returns for 716 yards, a figure that ranked as the fourth-highest tally in school history.
- In 2013, Shibest coached the nation's best punter, Tom Hornsey, who earned the Ray Guy Award.
- Hornsey ranked seventh nationally in punting in 2013, averaging 45.2 yards per punt. He also landed 46.8 percent (29 of 62) of his punts inside the 20.
- Memphis led Conference USA in kickoff coverage with a net average of 42.6 yards in 2013.
- Freshman tight end Alan Cross led Memphis with five TD catches in 2012 and was named to the All-Conference USA Freshman Team.
- Spent four seasons at Ole Miss, where he coached an NCAA statistical champion, four All-SEC honorees and two freshman award winners highlighted Shibest's special teams accomplishments.

- Tutored the top two kick returners in Ole Miss history in Mike Wallace and Jesse Grandy.
- In 2011, the Rebels ranked second nationally and led the SEC in punt returns with a 15.6-yard average.
- Kicker Joshua Shene wrapped up his career at Ole Miss second in career scoring (310), field goals (57), field goal attempts (75), PATs made (139) and PATs attempted (142).
- In his first season with the Rebels in 2008, Shibest was honored as the Special Teams Coordinator of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Shibest groomed running back Felix Jones into the SEC Special Teams Player of the Year at Arkansas in 2007.
- Spent eight seasons as Arkansas (2000-07), where he coached special teams and had stints tutoring tight ends (2000-01, 2006-07) and receivers (2002-05).
- Led Butler County (Kansas) Community College to a four-year record of 34-10 and back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) championships in 1998 and 1999.
- Named the NJCAA Coach of the Year both seasons, and he also earned Jayhawk Conference Coach of the Year honors in 1996 and 1998.
- During his tenure at Butler County, Shibest coached 19 NJCAA All-Americans and 34 NCAA Division I signees, including Ricky Hall who registered 12 touchdowns for Tech in 1998-99 as a receiver and return man.
- Led the Grizzlies to records of 7-4 in 1996, 4-5 in 1997, 12-0 in 1998 and 11-1 in 1999.
- In two seasons at Garden City (Kan.) Community College he helped the Bronco Busters to a 10-1 record in 1994 and a 9-2 mark in 1995 with an offense that ranked sixth in the NJCAA.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Prep All-American receiver at Houston's MacArthur High School earned All-Southwest Conference honors at Arkansas in 1984 and 1986, amassing a then-school-record 1,920 receiving yards on 97 receptions, including 10 touchdowns.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Two-year starter at Oklahoma State who saw duty at both defensive tackle and tight end.
- Blocked for a pair of Pro Football Hall of Fame running backs in Thurman Thomas and Barry Sanders.
- Was also a teammate of current Oklahoma State head coach, Mike Gundy, who quarterbacked OSU from 1986-89.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran offensive line coach enters his third season at Tech.
- Another longtime associate of head coach Justin Fuente, their relationship dates back to 1999 when Vice served as offensive line coach at Murray State and Fuente was the Racers' quarterback. The duo later coached together at Illinois State before reuniting at Memphis.
- G Wyatt Teller earned All-ACC First-Team honors under his tutelage in 2017, while C Eric Gallo was an honorable mention pick.
- Thanks to the protection of Vice's blocking unit QB Josh Jackson led all FBS freshmen at his position, averaging 255.0 ypg of total offense.
- Under Vice's direction in 2016, G Augie Conte and T Jon McLaughlin both earned third-team All-ACC honors as Tech's offense set or tied 10 single-season school records.
- Thanks to the protection of Vice's unit in 2016, QB Jerod Evans also enjoyed a prolific campaign, setting single-season VT records for total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546) and rushing yards by a QB (846).
- Fuente's "Hard, Smart, Tough" mantra is personified in Vice, who played collegiately as a defensive lineman and tight end at Oklahoma State in the 1980s.
- During his final two campaigns at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 19-7 record and allowed a conference-low 32.0 sacks, cutting that sack total in half compared to the 64.0 sacks Memphis allowed in the two years prior to his arrival in 2010-11. The Tigers also set a school record, scoring 993 points over that two-season period.
- The Tigers permitted a mere 17.0 sacks in 2015 as only nine teams in the Power Five permitted fewer. Memphis allowed 16.0 sacks in 2014, a total that ranked 15th among FBS squads.
- The rapid development of a blocking unit to protect QB Paxton Lynch allowed the Memphis passer to complete 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 touchdowns and 13 interceptions, good for a 147.9 rating during the 2014-15 seasons. By contrast, Memphis registered only 24 TD passes during the 2010 and 2011 seasons combined.
- The Memphis ground game also prospered thanks to Vice's blocking unit. In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and recorded 60 rushing TDs after averaging a 87.8 rushing ypg and scoring 15 rushing TDs in 2010-11.
- To put the ascent of the Memphis rushing game in additional perspective, Vice and the offensive staff inherited a squad that averaged 84.0 rushing ypg in 2011. The only FBS program that ran for fewer yards per game was Miami (Ohio) at 73.8 ypg.
- During the 2015 campaign, Memphis scored 40.2 ppg to rank 11th among FBS squads, while coming in 18th in passing offense (307.5 ypg) and 19th in total offense (486.9 ypg). The Tigers also ranked eight among FBS squads on third down, converting on 48.8 percent (101 of 207) of their opportunities.
- Prior to rejoining Fuente at Memphis, Vice spent three seasons at Louisiana-Monroe (2009-11) where his offensive front paved the way for 21 rushing scores in 2009 and 22 rushing TDs in 2011. The Warhawks amassed 392.3 ypg of total offense in 2009, the program's highest offensive output since joining the FBS.
- RB Frank Goodin finished the 2009 season with 1,126 rushing yards, good for the fourth-highest seasonal total in school history, while his 13 TDs were the second-best mark in Louisiana-Monroe history as the squad averaged 183.9 rushing ypg.
- The Warhawks were tied for 21st in the FBS by permitting 16.0 sacks in 2009.
- During Vice's four seasons at Utah State, a quartet of his offensive linemen earned All-Western Athletic Conference (WAC) honors including Ryan Tonnemacher who was a two-time Rimington Trophy Watch List nominee at center.
- Enjoyed a five-year stint Illinois State as offensive line coach with additional responsibilities as assistant head coach.
- Three of Vice's linemen earned All-America honors and eight garnered All-Gateway Conference accolades at Illinois State. In 2003, the Redbirds established a school record with 248.1 yards per game rushing and allowed just 5.0 sacks on 367 pass attempts, tying as the fifth-lowest tally among FCS squads.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

• A four-year letterwinner and three-year starter at running back for New Mexico (1998-2001), he finished his career with 1,833 rushing yards, the 14th-most in school history. He also remains the Lobos' single-season leader in punt returns (46) and punt return yardage (392) – both set in 2000 – and ranks 12th all-time in all-purpose yards with 2,912 yards.

• Named the Los Angeles Class 4A Player of the Year as a senior at San Pedro High School.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Enters his third season with the Hokies after spending four seasons in the same capacity at Memphis.
- Well-versed in the offensive philosophy of head coach Justin Fuente and offensive coordinator Brad Cornelsen, Wiggins' relationship with that duo and current Tech offensive line coach Vance Vice dates back to their time together at Illinois State.
- Part of a staff that helped guide Tech's offense to 10 single-season records in 2016, including points (490), passing first downs (172), TD passes (31), total offense (6,223), completion pct. (62.1%), passing yards (3,660) and pass completions (279).
- Helped continue the ascent of WR Isaiah Ford, who broke his own Tech single-season record with 79 receptions in 2016, registering 1,094 yards and seven TDs in the process.
- Also tutored WR Cam Phillips, who earned Belk Bowl MVP honors in 2016 and concluded his junior campaign by setting personal bests in receptions (76) and receiving yards (983).
- Phillips established himself as Tech's career leader in receptions and receiving yards in 2017 after catching 71 passes for 964 yards and a career-high seven TDs. He set a VT single-game record with 14 catches at East Carolina (9/16/17).
- Mentored a youthful receiving corps in 2017 that included true freshman WR Sean Savoy, who earned ACC Rookie of the Week honors following a nine-catch, 139-yard, one-TD performance at Boston College (10/7/17).
- An integral component of Fuente's staff that helped lead Memphis to 19 victories and back-to-back bowl appearances in 2014-15. That amazing run featured a 15-game winning streak, the school's first conference championship since 1971 and a double-overtime win over BYU in the Miami Beach Bowl.
- Memphis wideouts registered 148 receptions, 1,687 yards and four TDs in 2013 and upped that total to 205 receptions for 2,422 yards and 14 TDs in 2014 before hauling in 255 passes for 3,277 yards and 19 TDs in 2015.

- Drastically improved the production of the wide receivers corps at Memphis. That position accounted for 125 receptions for 1,417 yards and eight touchdowns in 2012 and made incremental gains each subsequent season.
- In total, Memphis registered 53 total receiving scores in 2014-15, compared to only 24 TD passes in the two seasons before Wiggins accompanied Fuente to the school.
- Under Wiggins' tutelage, WR Mose Frazier (who began his career at Arkansas-Pine Bluff) enjoyed a breakout senior campaign in 2015, leading the Tigers with 70 catches for 797 yards, while adding four scores.
- The Tigers ranked 18th in passing offense (307.5 ypg) among FBS squads and were 19th in total offense (486.9 ypg) in 2015, while finishing 11th in scoring offense (40.2 ppg). Memphis also ranked eighth in the nation in third-down conversions at 48.8 percent (101 of 207).
- Memphis posted a 10-3 mark in 2014 thanks to a potent offense that ranked 21st among FBS squads by averaging 36.2 ppg.
- Frazier and fellow WR Keiwone Malone formed a dynamic tandem of wideouts for the Tigers in 2014, combining for 92 receptions, 1,061 yards and seven TDs.
- Joined the Memphis program after a one-year stint coaching running backs under head coach Bill Blankenship at Tulsa in 2010.
- His Tulsa running backs combined for 2,006 rushing yards, while H-Back Willie Carter led Tulsa with 868 receiving yards that season, meriting a spot on the All-Conference USA Second Team.
- Enjoyed a five-year tour of duty coaching running backs at Illinois State from 2006-10, helping guide the Redbirds to the FCS quarterfinals in his initial season on the staff.
- Under his tutelage in 2006, RB Pierre Rembert earned All-America accolades and rushed for a school-record 1,743 yards. From 2006-08, Illinois State averaged 187.7 rushing ypg and racked up 76 rushing scores.
- Wiggins began his coaching career at his alma mater of New Mexico after enjoying a standout playing career for the Lobos.

1986	Division I-AA Playoffs (Murray State)

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Wiles won Kodak Division I-AA All-America honors as an offensive lineman at Murray State in 1986 playing under Frank Beamer, who served as the Racers' head coach.
- Is one of three former Murray State players on the current Tech coaching staff, joining head coach Justin Fuente and associate head coach/defensive coordinator, Bud Foster.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Enters his 23rd season coaching Virginia Tech's defensive line, making him the second-longest tenured member of the Virginia Tech staff behind only associate head coach/defensive coordinator Bud Foster who joined Tech in 1987.
- The productivity and consistency of Virginia Tech's defensive front have been hallmarks of Tech's vaunted "Lunch Pail Defense" over the years, thanks in large part to Wiles.
- Tied as the fourth-longest tenured FBS assistant at one school among active coaches.
- Dating back to 1996 when Wiles began his tenure coaching Tech's defensive line, the Hokies have registered 813.0 sacks, the highest total of any team in the nation over that span.
- The Hokies also own best mark of any Power Five squad on third down since 1996, limiting opponents to a 31.2-percent conversion rate. Only Michigan (26.1%) ranked better in that department than Virginia Tech (26.2%) in 2017.
- The ability of Wiles' linemen to put pressure on the passer also helps explain why Virginia Tech has forced an FBS-best 373 interceptions during his tenure in Blacksburg. In 2017, Tech led all FBS squads, limiting opponents to a completion percentage of a mere 48.60 percent.
- With Wiles helping Foster devise schemes to stop the run, Tech has permitted an average of 116.7 rushing ypg dating back to 1996 to rank fifth nationally.
- Since he joined Tech as defensive line coach, only Alabama (16.2 ppg) and Ohio State (16.6 ppg) own stingier scoring defenses than Virginia Tech (17.7).
- DT Tim Settle (Second Team) and DT Ricky Walker (Honorable Mention) earned All-ACC honors in 2017. Settle was selected in the fifth round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.
- Former pupils DT Woody Baron (Dallas), DE Ken Ekanem (Denver) and DT Nigel Williams (Buffalo) all signed as NFL free agents in 2017.
- Has coached five All-America selections – Cornell Brown (1995 & 1996), Corey Moore (1998 & 1999), John Engelberger (1999), Darryl Tapp (2005) and David Pugh (2001).
- The most highly-decorated member of that group was Moore, who became the first-ever Tech defender to earn unanimous All-America honors in 1999.
- Moore also earned the 1999 Bronco Nagurski Award as the college football's defensive player of the year while also taking home the Lombardi Award as the national lineman of the year as the Hokies tied for the national lead with 58.0 sacks and advanced to the national championship game.

- Under his tutelage, 26 different Virginia Tech defensive linemen have earned all-conference honors. In 2015, Luther Maddy (second team), Dadi Nicolas (third team) and Corey Marshall (honorable mention) continued Wiles' trend of producing All-ACC performers as Tech extended its string of consecutive bowl berths to 23 straight years.
- In 2014, his linemen helped contribute 26.0 sacks as the Hokies ranked second among Power Five squads with 48.0 sacks.
- Behind second-team All-ACC pick, Derrick Hopkins, Tech ranked 10th nationally in rushing defense (110.9 ypg) and tied for eighth with 39.0 sacks in 2013 as all four starting linemen were represented on an All-ACC squad.
- His front was part of a 2011 defense that ranked seventh in the country in scoring defense (17.6 ppg) and 10th in total defense (304.6 ypg).
- Tech claimed the ACC title in 2010 as the Hokies led the nation with a +19 turnover differential (32 takes/13 gives) and ranked second with 23 INTs.
- In 2006, Virginia Tech led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Wiles' 2005 defensive line was led by first-team All-America Darryl Tapp who helped Tech lead the nation in total defense (247.6 ypg) and rank second in the nation in scoring defense (12.9 ppg).
- Tech won the ACC title during its debut season in 2004 when its defense ranked second nationally in scoring defense (12.8 ppg) and came in fourth in both total defense (268.0 ypg) and pass defense (152.8 ypg).
- In 1999, Corey Moore was chosen the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year for a second consecutive year as The Sporting News rated Tech's defensive front the best in the college football as the Hokies rattled off an undefeated regular season behind the nation's stingiest scoring defense (10.5 ppg).
- Under Wiles' guidance, one-time walk-on John Engelberger earned All-BIG EAST honors in both 1997 and 1998 before earning second team All-America honors from the AP in 1999.
- Wiles embarked on his two-decade career coaching the defensive line at Tech in 1996 when his star pupil was All-America defensive end Cornell Brown.
- As co-defensive coordinator at Murray State in 1995, he helped lead the Racers to an 11-0 regular-season mark and a berth in the Division I-AA playoffs.
- Originally began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for the Hokies in 1987, Frank Beamer's first season as Tech's head coach.

JUSTIN HAMILTON DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT – DEFENSE

Justin Hamilton returned to Virginia Tech in January 2018 as director of player development – defense. A versatile player for Frank Beamer and the Hokies from 2002-05, he spent time working at running back, wide receiver and defensive back for Tech, in addition to playing a prominent role on special teams.

As a senior defensive back in 2005 he posted 35 tackles, 2.5 tackles for loss, three interceptions and seven passes defended, helping lead the Hokies to its second consecutive appearance in the ACC Championship Game and a win over Louisville in the 2006 Gator Bowl. A four-year letterman for the Hokies, Hamilton appeared in 52 games (13 starts). He carries the ball 75 times for 336 yards with three touchdowns, while hauling in 34 passes for 369 yards with one score. On the defensive side of the ball he accumulated 42 tackles (21 solo) while adding a pair of blocked kicks on special teams.

The Clintwood, Virginia native spent the last four seasons as inside linebackers coach and special teams co-coordinator at VMI. Hamilton joined the Keydets after serving as defensive coordinator at UVA-Wise from 2011-13. He also spent time as a strength and conditioning coordinator at UVA-Wise in 2010-11.

Hamilton was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the seventh round of the 2006 NFL Draft and he registered 15 tackles in 10 games as a rookie. He also spent time with Washington Redskins during the 2008 season before retiring from the NFL.

DANIELLE BARTLESTEIN SENIOR DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Danielle Bartelstein is in her third season as the senior director of football operations for football head coach Justin Fuente. She oversees the daily administrative and operational duties within Virginia Tech's football program, the handling of team travel, and other assorted responsibilities. She is the only female working in such a role among Power 5 schools and one of just a handful in the FBS.

The Chicago native came to Tech after working for a year as a senior advisor for Hance Scarborough, LLP, a prestigious law firm in Austin, Texas, where she assisted in the overall management for the former U.S. Congressman and Chancellor Emeritus at Texas Tech University. Bartelstein served as the director of football relations at Texas Tech from 2013-15. She was responsible for the day-to-day recruiting operations. This included coordinating all official and unofficial visits, developing seasonal recruiting campaigns, as well as evaluating and organizing all off-campus recruiting activities.

Bartelstein worked at TCU as the assistant director of football operations (2010-12) under head coach

Gary Patterson. While at TCU, she worked with Fuente, who served as the quarterbacks coach and co-offensive coordinator at the time. Her first stop in college football occurred at Stanford, where she worked as a volunteer for then-head coach Jim Harbaugh. She helped with summer camps and game-day logistics.

Her grandfather, Steve Reid, was an All-America lineman at Northwestern during the 1930s and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1985. When she went to Illinois, where she received her undergraduate degree, she volunteered to help with the football program – her first step toward a career in the sport.

MATT TRANSUE ASST. DIRECTOR, FOOTBALL OPS/DIRECTOR PRO SCOUTING

Matt Transue enters his third year on the Virginia Tech football staff, serving as the assistant director of football operations and director of pro scouting. Transue is responsible for assisting in the day-to-day operations of the Hokies' operation and recruiting departments. He also supports the planning and execution of team travel and onboarding of new enrollees.

He assists with recruiting visits (unofficial & official), database management, graphic design for the program's social media channels and other general duties as assigned. He also serves as the team's pro liaison to the NFL, coordinating all NFL personnel visits and Virginia Tech's annual Pro Day.

Transue worked with Fuente and many members of his staff as a recruiting volunteer at the University of Memphis during the 2015 season. While in Memphis, he also worked as an account executive in the ticket office of the Memphis Redbirds, the Triple-A affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Brentwood, California native, is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, with an undergraduate degree and a master's degree in sport management. While at Tennessee, he served as a student assistant, and later a graduate assistant, in the football recruiting and operations departments from 2010-15.

Player Personnel

MARK DIETHORN DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Mark Diethorn (pronounced DEE-thorn) joined the Hokies as director of player personnel in 2018. He spent the past six seasons at the University of Pittsburgh, most recently serving as director of recruiting.

"Mark will serve in a key role for us as our director of player personnel," Fuente said. "His longstanding relationships with coaches across our region and his passion for Virginia Tech are just some of the qualities that made him the right person for us. Mark is very bright and talented, but it also became very apparent he shares a vision for the type of young men who will fit at Virginia Tech, in terms of work ethic, talent and their commitment to being successful academically. We're excited to have him join our team and what we're building in Blacksburg."

The Belle Vernon, Pennsylvania native began his tenure at Pitt as a recruiting assistant in 2012. He took on additional responsibilities when Pat Narduzzi was named head coach in 2015 when he was promoted to director of recruiting. In that role he was responsible for planning and executing all prospect visits, as well as planning and executing all aspects of Pitt's recruiting and personnel strategy. Following his promotion by Narduzzi, the Panthers signed their best recruiting class in eight years according to Rivals and ESPN.

Diethorn served as scouting and player personnel intern with Pittsburgh Steelers during their 2017 training camp. Under the direction of general manager Kevin Colbert, Diethorn evaluated college prospects for the Steelers' player personnel department. While at Pitt he played a role in helping acquire 14 players who would go on to play in the National Football League. That group includes NFL Draft draftees such as WR Tyler Boyd, RB James Conner, G Dorian Johnson, DB Avonte Maddox, QB Nathan Peterman, T Brian O'Neill and DB Jordan Whitehead.

Prior to his stint at Pitt, Diethorn worked as a football recruiting assistant at the University of Florida from 2009-10. He assisted the Gators' coaching staff during recruiting periods and handling campus visits, in addition to managing Florida's recruiting database. He contributed to the signing of two top-12 recruiting classes, including the Gators' 2010 class that was ranked No. 1 nationally by Scout and ESPN.

Diethorn holds a Master's degree in sport management from Florida and an MBA from Pitt. He earned his B.S. in business information technology from Virginia Tech in 2007 and also owns experience working in the private sector, including an appointment as a business analyst for PNC Financial Group.

JOHN IEZZI DIRECTOR, ON-CAMPUS RECRUITING

John Iezzi (pronounced YET-zee) enters his second season working on a full-time basis in player personnel for the Hokies. He has served as a graduate assistant since June 2015 after working as a student recruiting assistant during his senior year at Tech.

He is responsible for Tech's prospect database, hosting and planning official/unofficial visits, producing recruiting materials and assisting with social media efforts.

During his time as an undergraduate, he worked as a baseball agent for Caradonna Sports and Entertainment for three years, a grassroots firm that he founded with two other individuals to assist in the representation of 11 minor league baseball players.

The Richmond, Virginia native is a graduate of Deep Run High School and earned a degree from Tech in finance in 2015.

THOMAS GUERRY DIRECTOR, RECRUITING OPERATIONS

Thomas Guerry enters his fifth year with the Hokies, enhancing Virginia Tech's recruiting efforts. Among many other responsibilities, he has taken the lead on improving the Hokies' digital media and graphic design presence within recruiting (@HokiesFB). Guerry also plans official and unofficial visits, assists with Justin Fuente Football Camps throughout the summer and monitors day-to-day operations within the recruiting department.

Guerry came to Virginia Tech from Georgia, where he worked in football operations for the University of Georgia Athletic Association starting in 2010. He also assisted with recruiting visits, character education and helped start the UGA Football Mentor Program.

In 2011, Guerry was promoted to football recruiting assistant and served in that position for three years. He quickly made a name for himself within the recruiting industry by piecing together four straight top 10 recruiting classes. In that role, Guerry oversaw all official and unofficial visits, junior days, Mark Richt 7-on-7 Camps and academic eligibility for prospects.

The Canton, Mississippi native graduated from Mississippi State in 2008 with a degree in business administration and earned his master's from Mississippi State in 2010 (M.B.A. with a minor in sport administration).

Guerry and his wife Amanda reside in Blacksburg.

25 JERSEY HONOREES

Virginia Tech retired Frank Beamer's No. 25 in 2002, but with Beamer's blessing in 2016 head coach Justin Fuente and his staff paid homage to Tech's legacy of excellence on special teams by selecting a different special teamer each week to wear the honorary Beamer 25 jersey. The response by the team and some of the subsequent performances by players wearing that symbolic number quickly ensured that another Virginia Tech tradition had taken root.

JOSH BOST DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL VIDEO AND TECHNOLOGY

Josh Bost enters his third season as the director of football video and technology. In his position, he manages all facets of the football video department. That includes the Hokies' new virtual reality technology, a nearly $100,000 investment that serves as a teaching tool for Tech's players.

Bost's list of duties also includes budgeting, ordering, researching, and maintaining the Hokies' XOS Technology, a system utilized by many NFL teams and one that gives the coaching staff a wealth of information in a matter of seconds. In addition, Bost and his staff coordinate, record, and edit all video from practices, games, opponent's games and recruiting for each coach to review and breakdown. Bost came to Virginia Tech from Memphis, where he had worked on Justin Fuente's staff as the video coordinator since August 2013.

Prior to working at Memphis, Bost worked at North Texas for nine years as the director of video operations. He graduated from Middle Tennessee State in 2003 and worked in that office as both a student and graduate assistant before moving to North Texas.

Bost and wife Holly have two children – a son, Micah, and a daughter, Lizzie.

ERIK LEWIS SENIOR DIRECTOR OF EQUIPMENT SERVICES

Erik Lewis is in his fifth year working in the Virginia Tech equipment room and serves as the director of equipment services. In addition to outfitting the Hokies, he plays a key role facilitating and maintaining the department's relationship with Nike.

Prior to joining the Virginia Tech staff in 2014, Lewis spent 10 years in the equipment room at East Carolina. Before landing at ECU, Lewis was a student at Marshall and worked as a student manager in the equipment room all four years.

Lewis graduated from Marshall in 2002 with a degree in sports management and marketing. He earned Athletic Equipment Managers Association certification in June of 2003 and was named the organization's District III Equipment Manager of the Year in 2013. His department was also recognized in 2008 as Conference USA's Equipment Staff of the Year.

The Hurricane, West Virginia native is married to the former Shannon St. George, and they are the parents of two daughters, Gwen and Merryn.

ATHLON'S TOP CFB TWITTER ACCOUNTS

Virginia Tech ranks among the elite college football Twitter accounts in the nation according to annual rankings by Athlon Sports. The @VT_Football account came at No. 9 in 2017 after ranking No. 3 each of the two previous seasons. The Hokies join Clemson, Ohio State and Utah as the only four schools to rank in Athlon's Top 10 each of the past three years.

Strength & Conditioning

BEN HILGART

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Ben Hilgart enters his third season as associate AD for strength and conditioning at Virginia Tech. He works directly with head coach Justin Fuente and the football program after joining the Hokies in January 2016.

Named a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association – the highest given in the profession – Hilgart owns an impressive resume. He has trained numerous players who have gone on to play in the NFL during his previous stints at New Mexico, Arizona State, Ohio State and UTEP. In his seven years at Arizona State, 10 players earned first-team all-conference recognition, including tight end Zach Miller, who would go on to earn All-America honors in 2006.

Hilgart oversees the Hokies' entire football strength and conditioning program, which includes all phases of strength, conditioning, rehabilitation, and injury prevention.

Before coming to Tech, Hilgart spent four seasons at New Mexico, including the past two as the director of athletic performance. He was in charge of the entire athletics performance initiative for the Lobos and he was also responsible for a redesign of the Athletic Performance Center, revamping the area into one of the top performance centers in the West.

Prior to working at New Mexico, Hilgart spent seven years at Arizona State, which included the final four seasons as the head sports performance coach. He worked directly with the Sun Devils' football program in addition to overseeing the sports performance programs for all 20 of Arizona State's sports.

Before arriving at Arizona State, Hilgart spent two seasons at Ohio State. He started as the assistant strength and conditioning coach before being promoted to associate strength and conditioning coach. He also spent two years at UTEP as the graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach. He served as the head strength coach and assistant defensive line coach at his alma mater, Western Illinois, in 2001.

Hilgart was a two-year letterman at Western Illinois, earning his bachelor's degree in physical education in 2001, and he earned his master's degree in kinesiology from UTEP in 2003. Hilgart also once served as the head strength coach at Deer Valley High School in Glendale, Arizona.

Hilgart and wife Jamie have two daughters, Riley and Reagan.

ANTHONY CROSBY
SENIOR DIRECTOR

Anthony Crosby is in his third season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff. Crosby came to Blacksburg from Ole Miss, where he spent four seasons as the assistant strength and conditioning coach for football and served in a similar role to his current one.

Prior to working at Ole Miss, the Lafayette, Louisiana native spent two seasons working with the football program at Boston College, where he assisted with program design, freshman and transfer orientation, and the designing of injured player rehabilitation workouts.

Before achieving a full-time position, Crosby worked internships at Arizona State and LSU, where he helped with the football programs along with Olympic sports such as baseball, volleyball, softball, track and field and wrestling.

Crosby played football at Louisiana Tech and graduated with a degree in kinesiology in 2008. He and his wife Colby have two sons, Brody & A.J.

RYAN SHUMAN DIRECTOR

Ryan Shuman enters his sixth season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff, working under the direction of Ben Hilgart, associate AD for strength and conditioning.

He graduated from Virginia Tech in 2008 after serving as a three-year starter for the Hokies. He started at left guard as a redshirt freshman before being moved to center for his final two seasons.

A former graduate assistant in the strength and conditioning department, he received his master's degree in curriculum and instruction in 2012 and moved into a full-time role with the strength and conditioning department shortly thereafter.

The Fork Union, Virginia native attended Fork Union High School. His father serves as the head football coach of the Fork Union postgraduate team. Shuman and his wife Meredith live in Salem with their son, John.

KODY COOKE
ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR

Cooke joined Tech's football performance staff in January 2018. He previously spent four years at Arizona State where he started as a graduate assistant in January 2013 and worked his way up to becoming a sports performance assistant coach. In 2017, Cooke led all warm up and speed and agility sessions for the Sun Devil football program, in addition to concentrating on the development of the squad's offensive linemen.

Prior to his tenure in Tempe, Cooke was a strength and conditioning intern at the Tulsa, his alma mater. He also worked with Dynamic Sports Development, also in Tulsa.

Cooke was a two-time letterwinner as an offensive lineman at Tulsa after beginning his playing career at the University of Oklahoma. Current Tech wide receivers coach Holmon Wiggins was on the Hurricanes' coaching staff while Cooke was a player.

Cooke earned his Master's degree in higher and post-secondary education from Arizona State and his bachelor's from Tulsa in exercise sports science. He and his wife, Nikki, reside in Christiansburg.

CHARLES SIMMONS
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Charles Simmons enters his second season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff. Prior to his time at the University of Texas in the spring of 2017, Simmons spent the 2016 season at Baylor where he worked with football, cross country, volleyball, soccer and equestrian.

The San Antonio native broke into the field as an intern at SMU, where earned his first full-time position directing and implementing programs for the equestrian, women's track and sprint teams. He then moved to California – Berkeley where he assisted with Cal's football, baseball and rugby teams.

Simmons earned his degree in kinesiology from Texas A&M Kingsville in 2010 where he was also a member of the football team. He later took classes in sport management from LSU in 2015. Simmons and his wife, Janika, reside in Blacksburg. The couple is expecting their first child in July.

Sports Medicine

The Sports Medicine Department at Virginia Tech continues to evolve, incorporating new ideas by utilizing state-of-the-art resources for the betterment of all Hokie student-athletes. Under the leadership of Associate Athletics Director for Sports Medicine Mike Goforth, the department is constantly improving and developing new strategies to provide the most current and comprehensive care.

Dr. Mark Rogers serves as Tech's Chief Medical Officer in accordance with NCAA requirements. According to legislation passed at the 2016 NCAA Convention, each member institution must designate a health care administrator to oversee the school's health care administration and delivery.

The team of certified athletic trainers, orthopaedic surgeons, Board Certified primary care physicians, chiropractors, physical therapists, acupuncturists, brace consultants, sport psychologists, nutritionists and massage therapists are available on site to manage the health care needs of Virginia Tech's student-athletes.

Following the 11th full year in the 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room, the space was expanded in 2013 to create a facility that unites the training and medical staffs in a centralized area to care for the needs of all Virginia Tech student-athletes.

Tech now has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing it in the top five percent nationally. The addition of the rehabilitation area makes Tech the first school to install the new Pavi Gym Customized flooring and X-Lab Fitness Rack, while also adding numerous pieces of equipment to address strength, flexibility, proprioception, and cardiovascular endurance. This space is directly joined with the new training area that is home to dozens of training tables, two cold tubs, whirlpools, an underwater treadmill, and a Biodex Balance System.

A vital part of student-athlete medical services is access to Carilion Clinic and it's vast array of specialty services offered through the nationally recognized hospital system and it's affiliates.

"We are privileged to have access to the finest physicians and services that Carilion Clinic has at its disposal," Goforth said. "It is comforting knowing that our local hospital has the best care available in this region of the country for our student-athletes."

"As certified athletic trainers, for us to have the resources we have is a tremendous asset," Goforth said. "The knowledge and skills that they bring are invaluable."

Over the years, Tech has developed the reputation for producing top-level certified athletic trainers. Graduates are now employed in positions across the country at various levels of the profession.

Head Impact Research

VIRGINIA TECH LEADING THE WAY IN HEAD IMPACT RESEARCH

In 2003, Virginia Tech was the first school to use the HIT System to monitor head impacts experienced by its football players. The HIT System consists of a sensor array that integrates into existing football helmets. This device measures head acceleration for every impact that players experience during each game and practice in which they participate. After each impact is recorded, data is sent to a computer on the sideline for real-time feedback.

While researchers have used the HIT System to better understand the biomechanics of concussion and head impact exposure in football, the athletics training and medical staff have used the system as another tool improve concussion identification in athletes. Virginia Tech is participating in a new, landmark $30 million national effort sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the U.S. Department of Defense to combat concussions among college athletes and active service military personnel.

The initiative funds the most comprehensive study of concussion and head impact exposure ever conducted. It will enroll an estimated 25,000 male and female NCAA student-athletes during a three-year study period. Virginia Tech is focusing on athletes participating in various sports, including football, women’s soccer, men’s soccer, and women’s lacrosse.

The 2018 football season will be the 16th year that Virginia Tech has collected head impact data from its players. To date, more than 200,000 head impacts have been collected and analyzed. The head acceleration data collected at Virginia Tech using the HIT System has allowed researchers to quantify the head impact exposure that collegiate football players experience.

In addition, these data have produced valuable insight to the head accelerations associated with concussion. Beginning in 2013, the sports medicine staff started a new study looking at different biomarker levels found in the blood of its athletes. These levels are measured before and after the season, as well as in the unlikely event of a concussion being diagnosed. Researchers are looking for correlations between the force that each of these athletes sustain over the course of a season (through using the HIT System) and the changes they find in the levels of these specific biomarkers.

Knowing the location, severity, and frequency of head impacts experienced during a season of collegiate football, Virginia Tech researchers developed the STAR, an acronym for the Summation of Tests for the Analysis of Risk, Evaluation System. This system evaluates the ability of football helmets to reduce the probability of concussion, and disseminates the results to the public so that consumers can make informed decisions when purchasing helmets.

The STAR Evaluation System involves a series of 20 drop tests consisting of different impact locations and energies that represents impacts experienced by collegiate football players. Each drop test is weighted based on how often a player experiences that impact scenario throughout a season of play. For each test, risk of concussion is determined based on the head acceleration produced by each helmet.

An overall predicted incidence of concussion is calculated for each helmet for the given impact exposure to assess helmet performance. This is the first tool to assess helmet performance and make the results available to the public, allowing consumers to make informed decisions when purchasing a new helmet.

Led by Dr. Stefan Duma, this work has resulted in a paradigm shift in the way consumers purchase helmets, as well as how helmets are designed. Duma’s work and data has been featured nationally on ESPN and NBC, as well as in the New York Times and other nationally recognized media outlets.

Sports Nutrition

Eating healthy and making food functional for athletic performance are important aspects of a Virginia Tech student-athlete's life, and that's why the athletics department implemented its sports nutrition program in July of 2002. Associate AD, Sports Nutrition Jennie Zabinsky works closely with coaches, team physicians, athletic trainers, strength coaches and sport psychologists to address any performance issues. She directs the nutrition and performance committee that meets monthly to discuss student-athletes of concern.

The sports nutrition staff manages two facilities, the Nutrition Oasis and Fueling Station, that provide athletes fuel in between workouts, classes and meals. Each facility provides recovery beverages, Gatorade products, smoothies and a variety of high-performance snack options as well as nutrition education resources.

JENNIE ZABINSKY, MAED, RD

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, SPORTS NUTRITION

Responsibilities: Zabinsky leads a five-member staff responsible for all nutrition and performance related concerns for varsity student-athletes, including individual counseling, team talks, body composition analysis using the Bod Pod, recovery nutrition plans, grocery store tours, training table menu planning, travel meal arrangements, managing the Nutrition Oasis and Fueling Stations, as well as supplement education.

Joined VT Staff: 2010; eighth year

At Virginia Tech: Zabinsky worked as the sports nutrition graduate assistant under former director Amy Freel before being hired as director in 2011. She directs the nutrition and performance committee.

Education: Roanoke College, 2005 (B.A. in sociology); Virginia Tech, 2009 (B.S. in human nutrition, foods and exercise: dietetics option); Virginia Tech, 2010 (dietetic internship); Virginia Tech, 2013 (master of arts in education).

Of Note: Zabinsky played basketball at Roanoke College in Salem, Va., from 2001-2005. She finished second on the team in scoring and rebounding as a sophomore, averaging 10.8 points and 5.1 rebounds per game. As a junior, she also finished second in scoring and rebounding at 8.2 points and 5.8 rebounds per game, respectively.

She averaged 8.1 points and 5.1 rebounds as a senior. Zabinsky is a member of the Collegiate and Professional Sports Dietitians Association (CPSDA) and Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Personal: The Centreville, Virginia native and her husband, Samuel, reside in Christiansburg. The couple have twin boys Kyle Eli and Kaleb James.

COMPANIES EMPLOYING OUR GRADUATES INCLUDE THESE AND MANY MORE:

Since 2011, Hokie student-athletes have had the opportunity to participate in a study abroad course focused on sport and international development. Over the years, the course has worked with NGOs in the Dominican Republic, visited the United Nations and International Olympic Committee in Switzerland, and most recently, partnered with a K-12 school in Kigali, Rwanda.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to the holistic support of the career, leadership, and personal development of Hokie student-athletes in order to bridge the gap between athletics and academics and build a foundation for success at Virginia Tech and beyond.

We develop today's champions to become tomorrow's leaders!

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

We believe we've been afforded a tremendous opportunity to assist Virginia Tech student-athletes in their growth as leaders. Our intent is to help student-athletes identify ways they can thrive as leaders, students and competitors. Through the Virginia Tech Athletics Leadership Institute, student-athletes have a chance to connect with peers, learn from each other, and more importantly, share the student-athlete experience as a journey done together.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to helping Hokie student-athletes discover their strengths and passions and identify transferable skills in preparation for career success beyond Virginia Tech. The Career Game Plan provides student-athletes with insight into unique aspects of career development through their tenure at Virginia Tech and offers stepping stones on their path to post-graduate success.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

With the university motto, Ut Prosim, (That I May Serve) at our core, the Office of Student-Athlete Development develops student-athletes for successful transitions into and out of college. Holistic education on sexual assault and relationship violence, alcohol, diversity and inclusion, time management, and financial literacy enhance the Hokie student-athlete experience. Our office also assists student-athletes in taking advantage of the many opportunities to volunteer with local and national organizations throughout their college career.

SAASS

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) is committed to providing a comprehensive academic and personal development program with counseling and advising for student-athletes, offering academic counseling to ensure students receive a complete system of support consistent with university and NCAA policies.

Student-athletes have access to the department's spacious facilities, located in the West Side of Lane Stadium. Opened during the 2006-07 academic year, the SAASS suite, located in the Quillen Family Academic Center, features 17 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 36-station computer lab with printer access, a conference room, three quiet areas for reading and studying and a reference library. To accommodate the busy schedules of all of Tech's student-athletes, the SAASS office is open and available for students to access from 8 a.m., until 10 p.m., weekdays and from 6 p.m., to 10 p.m., on weekends. The SAASS office offers a tutor program available to Tech's student-athletes in both individual and group settings. Tutor services are available six days a week and the staff assures options for nearly every subject a student-athlete could request assistance in. The collection of SAASS programs housed in Lane Stadium guarantees that all student-athletes achieve success during their time at Virginia Tech.

Tech's football student-athletes have always seen great success in the classroom much in part to the help of the SAASS office. Since 2012, 100 percent of Hokie seniors have earned their degree, and the football team has earned some of its highest scores ever in the Academic Progress Rate (APR) in recent reports. Academic All-America honorees in past years have included the likes of Danny Coale and Chris Drager. Among FBS schools, Tech is annually among the best in the number of players on the current roster who have already earned their undergraduate degrees.

HOPPLE PARTICIPATES IN STUDY ABROAD CLASS IN RWANDA

Jarrett Hopple was a part of a small contingent of Virginia Tech student-athletes, students and administrators who traveled to Rwanda in late May as part of UAP 3984: Sport, Policy and Society—a study abroad course that explores different sectors of international development and how sports can support such development. Danny White, associate athletics director for student-athlete development, oversaw the course, with assistance from athletics department staff members Dr. Gary Bennett (sport psychologist) and Shelby Miller (coordinator of student-athlete development).

Of the 15 students who went, 11 were student-athletes. That group included Hopple, Olivia Odle (women's soccer), Marcelo Acuna (men's soccer), Aaron Boyd (men's swimming and diving), Charles Filby (men's soccer), Jenna Beattie (women's swimming and diving), Jessica Beattie (women's swimming and diving), Baillie Cameron (women's swimming and diving), Erin Scott (women's swimming and diving), Amanda Swaak (women's track and field), and Jaylyn Thompson (women's soccer).

They spent the majority of their two-week trip in Kigali, the capital of Rwanda. While there, they went to the Kigali Genocide Memorial, which honors the more than 250,000 people who were killed by a government-led faction during a three-month period in 1994.

The group also met with officials from government organizations, non-governmental organizations and non-profit groups. Some of those included The U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), World Vision, and Right to Play officials, all of whom are committed to broad-scale development in the country.

In addition, they met with those who coordinate and run Kids Play International there. This non-profit outfit, formed by former Olympian Tracy Evans, works in the rural part of the country and focuses on gender equity, using sport in those areas to bring children together.

The group also mixed in a trip to the U.S. Embassy there in Rwanda and went on a safari tour at Akagera National Park. During the final four days, the students taught physical education classes to the children at the Kigali International Community School.

Hopple (back row center) was one of 11 student-athletes to participate in Virginia Tech's Sport, Policy and Society study abroad course.

This year marked the sixth consecutive one in which White has overseen a course and led Tech students abroad to expose them to other parts of the world and broaden their horizons. In that time frame, more than 100 student-athletes have traveled to places like the Dominican Republic, Switzerland and Rwanda.

2017 Game-By-Game

GAME ONE

22	WEST VIRGINIA	24
21	VIRGINIA TECH	31

FEDExFIELD • LANDOVER, MD. • SEPT. 3, 2017 • ATT: 67,489

Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson threw a touchdown pass and ran for a touchdown pass in his collegiate debut and Cam Phillips had a career-high 138 yards receiving to lift the No. 21 Hokies to a 31-24 victory over No. 22 West Virginia in the season opener Friday evening at FedExField.

Renewing a rivalry that had been dormant since 2005, the Hokies and Mountaineers went back and forth in the second half before Tech scored late to give the Hokies their eighth win over the Mountaineers in the past 11 meetings.

"I don't know where to start," Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "I thought it was a well-played football game for both teams. There was back and forth, and yards were hard to come by early in the game. Then it seemed like there was a spell there in the second half when both teams were moving the ball well, going back and forth."

"I thought there were a bunch of people that contributed. Obviously, our coaching staff, and I think about the individual players. The guys on special teams doing their jobs, the guys on offense and defense contributing and we found a way to win the ball game."

With the game tied at 24, the Hokies took over at their own 18, and Jackson went to work. A 12-yard run, a 22-yard pass to Sean Savoy and a 46-yard run to the West Virginia 2 ultimately set up Travon McMillian's 3-yard touchdown run with 6:30 to go that gave Tech a 31-24 lead.

West Virginia drove to the Tech 15 in the waning moments. With 2 seconds to go, WVU quarterback Will Grier threw a pass that fell incomplete in the back corner of the end zone. A West Virginia holding penalty would have negated the play anyway, and the Hokies celebrated.

Jackson, a redshirt freshman from Ann Arbor, Michigan, completed 15 of 26 for 235 yards and a score. He also rushed for 101 yards on a night when Tech finished with 469 yards of total offense – and perhaps more importantly, no turnovers.

Phillips caught seven passes for 138 yards and a touchdown.

Grier threw for 371 yards and three scores for the Mountaineers.

GAME NOTES

- Trevon Hill's first-half interception marked the first by a Tech defensive lineman since Corey Marshall intercepted a pass against Pittsburgh in 2014.
- Phillips' 138 yards receiving yards surpassed his previous career high of 115, which came in the Hokies' 35-24 victory over Arkansas in the Belk Bowl. The performance marked the third time in his career in which he registered more than 100 yards receiving.
- McMillian recorded his 15th career rushing touchdown when he scored what turned out to be the game winner against the Mountaineers. His 15 career rushing touchdowns rank fourth in the ACC among active players.
- Joey Slye registered a field goal and four extra points for a total of seven points. He now has 328 career points and needs just nine points to move past Lee Suggs into second place on Tech's all-time list. He also needs just five field goals to move past Shayne Graham into the top spot for career field goals made. Graham hit 68 during his career from 1996-99.
- Braxton Pfaff got the call at right guard for the Hokies, and the redshirt junior made his first career start. Others making their first career starts included Jackson, Sean Savoy, Chris Cunningham, Tim Settle and Reggie Floyd.

GAME TWO

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • SEPT. 9, 2017 • ATT: 62,526

Greg Stroman returned a punt for a touchdown, Josh Jackson threw two touchdown passes and the Hokies' defense recorded a shutout, lifting No. 18 Virginia Tech to a 27-0 victory over Delaware in a non-conference game at Lane Stadium on Saturday.

With the win, the Hokies moved to 2-0 on the season and 52-4 against non-conference opponents at Lane Stadium since 1996. Delaware fell to 1-1 on the year.

Tech's defense held the Blue Hens to just 223 yards in helping coordinator Bud Foster record his 32nd shutout since taking over as the sole coordinator in 1996.

"It's hard to do nowadays," Foster said. "I think Delaware has an outstanding football program. I felt going into this game ... I've known Danny [Rocco] for a long time, and I know he doesn't take that job unless he has a chance to do some special things there. You're talking about a tradition-rich program. They are an experienced program – they got 19 starters returning and a lot of upperclassmen. So yes, I'm proud of our kids and how they played ... It's a credit to our kids."

Stroman broke a scoreless game late in the first quarter when he made a nice cut at the Virginia Tech 45 to dodge a would-be tackler and then went untouched 61 yards for the score.

"First thing I had to do was catch it," Stroman said. "When I first looked upfield, a lot of guys just hadn't been pinned, so I just hit and tried to go forward."

Tech quarterback Josh Jackson threw a 4-yard touchdown pass to Travon McMillian and a 28-yard touchdown strike to Cam Phillips. Jackson completed 16 of 28 for 222 yards and the two scores on the day.

Jackson's production came on a day in which the Hokies' offense sputtered at times. Tech finished with just 303 yards.

"Obviously, we have a lot of things we need to work on, but I'm proud of them and the way that they played," Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "We got to get ready to go for the next one. Delaware, defensively, has a fine scheme. They know it well, they execute it very well and it gave us some problems offensively."

GAME NOTES

- Stroman became the first player in Virginia Tech history to return a punt for a touchdown in three consecutive seasons. His three career punt returns for touchdowns rank tied for fourth in school history.
- Stroman's punt return marked Tech's 58th touchdown on special teams since 1987, including the 22nd via punt return.
- The Hokies are now 5-1 in their past six home openers and are 2-0 under Fuente.
- Cam Phillips' 90 receiving yards gives him 2,291 for his career. He moved past Ricky Scales (2,272) into fourth place on Tech's all-time list.
- Joey Slye's 50-yard field goal marked a career high. With two field goals against Delaware, he now needs just four to pass Shayne Graham (1996-99) and become Tech's all-time leader.
- Slye finished with nine points against Delaware, giving him 330 for his career. He needs just seven points to pass Lee Suggs (1999-2002) into second place on Tech's all-time list.

GAME THREE

16 VIRGINIA TECH 64
EAST CAROLINA 17

DOWDY-FICKLEN • GREENVILLE, N.C. • SEPT. 16, 2017 • ATT: 43,776

Virginia Tech receiver Cam Phillips set a school record for receptions in a game and quarterback Josh Jackson tied a school record with five touchdown passes to lead the No. 16 Hokies to a 64-17 non-conference victory over East Carolina at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium on Saturday.

With the win, the Hokies moved to 3-0 on the season. East Carolina fell to 0-3.

Phillips caught 14 passes for 189 yards and three touchdowns. His 14 receptions broke the school record of 13 shared by Nick Cullen (Southern Miss, 1990) and Donald Wayne Snell (Cincinnati, 1985).

Jackson completed 24 of 31 for 372 yards. His five scoring tosses tied the school record previously held by Bryan Randall, who threw five in a triple overtime loss at Syracuse in 2002, and Jerod Evans, who threw five against BC last season.

The Hokies trailed 17-7 in the second quarter, but a 10-yard touchdown pass from Jackson to Phillips started an avalanche of points. Tech scored 50 unanswered, including touchdowns on all five of its third-quarter possessions.

Tech finished with 675 yards of total offense. It scored the most points and recorded the most total offense under head coach Justin Fuente.

GAME NOTES

- The Hokies scored on 11 of their 14 possessions against the Pirates. They scored on nine straight possessions at one stretch – with six possessions ending in touchdowns.
- Phillips' 14 receptions gave him 192 for his career and enabled him to move past Jarrett Boykin (2008-11) into second place on the Hokies' all-time list for career receptions. He needs just 19 more to move past Isaiah Ford for the school record.
- Phillips' three touchdown receptions early in the second quarter marked the 13th, 14th and 15th of his career. He moved into a tie for eighth place with Sidney Snell (1978-80) on the school's all-time list.
- Joey Slye's three field goals against the Pirates gave him 69 for his career, enabling him to become Tech's all-time leader in career field goals. Slye broke Shayne Graham's previous mark of 68 set from 1996-99.
- Speaking of Slye, his 15 points against ECU gave him 352 points for his career. He needs just 20 points to move past Graham and become the school's all-time leader in that category.
- Greg Stroman's second-quarter interception marked his first of the season and the sixth of his career. The interception set up a 37-yard field goal by Joey Slye with 1:03 left in the first half that gave the Hokies a 23-17 halftime lead.

GAME FOUR

OLD DOMINION 0
13 VIRGINIA TECH 38

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • SEPT. 23, 2017 • ATT: 65,632

Virginia Tech tailback Steven Peoples scored three touchdowns, including two before halftime, and Tech's defense notched its second shutout of the season, as the No. 13 Hokies gradually pulled away from Old Dominion, winning 38-0 in a non-conference game played Saturday afternoon at Lane Stadium.

With the win, Tech moved to 4-0 on the season – its first 4-0 start since 2011. That year also marked the last time the Hokies won all their non-conference games. Old Dominion fell to 2-2 on the season.

Tech was sluggish for much of the first half, but came up with a big play when backup free safety Divine Deablo intercepted a pass in Old Dominion territory. That play led to a 17-yard touchdown pass from Josh Jackson to Peoples with 6:07 left in the first half.

On the Hokies' next possession, they marched impressively 79 yards in 11 plays. With 40 seconds left before halftime, Peoples scored on a 1-yard run to give Tech a 17-0 lead.

Those two touchdowns drives sparked the Hokies' offense, which scored touchdowns on five of six drives spanning the two halves.

Jackson completed 20 of 30 for 298 yards and three touchdowns, with an interception – his first of the season. Peoples finished with 135 total yards (73 receiving, 62 rushing) of Tech's 582.

Tech's defense allowed Old Dominion to get past midfield just one time in the game. The Hokies held the Monarchs to 149 total yards.

GAME NOTES

- The game marked the first multiple-touchdown performance of Peoples' career. The two receiving touchdowns marked the second and third of his career, while his rushing touchdown was his third.
- Tech has now scored 27 points off opponents' turnovers through the first four games.
- Joey Slye added to his nation's-leading touchdown total with seven against Old Dominion. He now has 29 for the season.
- Slye continues to inch toward Shayne Graham's career scoring record of 371 points. With eight points against the Monarchs, Slye now has 360 points for his career and needs just 12 points to surpass Graham (1996-99).
- Cam Phillips caught seven passes for 106 yards – his third 100-yard performance of the season. He entered the season with just two such performances.

2017 GAME-BY-GAME

GAME FIVE

2 CLEMSON 31
12 VIRGINIA TECH 17

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • SEPT. 30, 2017 • ATT: 65,632

Clemson quarterback Kelly Bryant threw for 186 yards and a touchdown and also rushed for 94 yards, as the No. 2 Tigers knocked off No. 12 Virginia Tech 31-17 in an ACC game played Saturday evening at Lane Stadium.

With the loss, the Hokies fell to 4-1 overall, 0-1 in the ACC. Clemson, the defending national champions, moved to 5-0, 3-0 in league play.

The Tigers grabbed the lead early and never relinquished it, as they scored on their first two possessions. A 23-yard field goal by Alex Spence gave Clemson a 3-0 lead and then a 60-yard touchdown pass from Bryant to Tavien Feaster midway through the first quarter gave the Tigers a 10-0 edge.

The Hokies cut into that on a field goal by Joey Slye with 3:10 left in the first half, but the Tigers quickly answered, marching 75 yards in just 1:51 and scoring on a 1-yard run by C.J. Fuller.

Clemson took a 24-3 lead in the third quarter on a 1-yard run by Tavien Feaster. The Hokies cut it to 24-10 early in the fourth quarter when a 43-yard punt return by Greg Stroman set up a 2-yard touchdown run by Sean Savoy.

The Tigers, though, put the game away nearly three minutes later when Dorian O'Daniel returned an interception 22 yards for the touchdown. Tech committed three turnovers in the game, which led to 14 Clemson points.

Josh Jackson paced the Hokies, completing just 29 of 42 for 251 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Behind Bryant, Clemson finished with 332 yards of offense.

GAME NOTES

- Cam Phillips' 6-yard catch midway through the first quarter extended his streak of catching at least one pass to a school-record 32 straight games. He broke the record last week against Old Dominion.
- The Hokies have scored in 288 straight games, which ranks as the seventh-longest in FBS history. Tech could move to sixth if it scores next week against Boston College. Tennessee's streak ended at 289 games after the Volunteers were shut out by Georgia.
- Joey Slye's four points against Clemson give him 364 for his career. He needs just eight points to surpass Shayne Graham (1996-99) as the Hokies' all-time leading scorer.
- Stroman's 55 yards on punt returns give him 870 in his career and moved him past Jayron Hosley, John Ludlow and DeAngelo Hall into third place on the school's all-time list.

GAME SIX

16 VIRGINIA TECH 23
BOSTON COLLEGE 10

ALUMNI STADIUM • CHESTNUT HILL, MASS. • OCT. 7, 2017 • ATT: 32,057

Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson threw for 322 yards and a touchdown, and the Hokies' defense held Boston College in check, all in leading No. 16 Virginia Tech to a 23-10 victory over the Eagles in an ACC game played at Alumni Stadium on Saturday evening.

With the win, the Hokies moved to 5-1 overall, 1-1 in the ACC, and they beat Boston College for the eighth time in the past 10 meetings. The Eagles fell to 2-4 overall, 0-3 in league play.

Tech survived an early interception and got on the board midway through the first quarter on a 53-yard touchdown pass from Jackson to Sean Savoy. The two teams later traded field goals before the Hokies opened some breathing room on Travon McMillian's 23-yard touchdown run with 6:19 left in the first half to take a 17-3 lead.

The Hokies only added two more Joey Slye field goals for the remainder of the game, but that was all they needed, as Tech's defense allowed just a fourth-quarter score the remainder of the evening. The Hokies held the Eagles to 320 held them to 2 of 15 on third-down conversions. At one stretch in the second half, BC went three-and-out on five straight possessions.

Jackson led Tech, completing 22 of 33 for 322 yards, with a touchdown and an interception. The Hokies finished with 431 yards of offense.

GAME NOTES

- Virginia Tech kicker Joey Slye became the school's all-time leading scorer after scoring 11 points against BC. Those 11 gave him 376 for his career, enabling him to pass Shayne Graham's previous mark of 371. Graham played from 1996-99.
- Tech receiver Cam Phillips suffered a sprained foot early in the game and did not return. He did catch a pass, extending his own school record streak of catching at least one pass to 32 straight games.
- Tech receiver Sean Savoy enjoyed a career evening, picking up the production vacated by Cam Phillips' absence with a foot injury. Savoy set career highs in receptions and receiving yards with nine catches for 139 yards. His previous highs in both categories came in the Delaware game when he caught four passes for 63 yards.
- Jackson's 322 yards passing marked his second 300-yard performance of the season. He threw for 372 against East Carolina.

GAME SEVEN

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • OCT. 21, 2017 • ATT: 65,632

Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson threw three touchdown passes and the Hokies' defense added two scores to carry the No. 14 Hokies to a 59-7 victory over North Carolina in an ACC game played Saturday at Lane Stadium.

With the win, Tech moved to 6-1 overall, 2-1 in the ACC and beat the Tar Heels for the 11th time in 14 games since joining the ACC. North Carolina (1-7, 0-5 ACC) lost its fifth straight game.

Tech looked rested and focused coming off a bye week and played that way, scoring in all three phases of the game in the first half and bolting out to a 35-0 halftime lead. Tech scored twice on defense, getting the first score of the game on a 12-yard fumble return for a touchdown from defensive tackle Ricky Walker in what served as a foreshadowing of things to come for the Tar Heels.

The Hokies added a 91-yard punt return for a touchdown by Greg Stroman – his second punt return for a score this season – and a 69-yard interception return for a touchdown from defensive back Reggie Floyd.

Jackson threw scoring tosses of 4, 8 and 8 yards, and he finished with 132 yards passing on an afternoon in which he only played a little more than two quarters. The Hokies finished with 383 yards of offense.

North Carolina only ventured into Virginia Tech territory three times, turned the ball over three times, and finished with 172 yards.

GAME NOTES

- Cam Phillips became Tech's all-time leader in receptions after catching five passes for 49 yards and a touchdown against the Tar Heels. The five catches gave him 212 in his career, enabling him to pass Isaiah Ford (210) into first place on the list.
- Jackson's three touchdown passes give him 16 on the season. He ranks second in the ACC in touchdown passes behind Louisville's Lamar Jackson (17).
- Tech's 59 points were its most ever in an ACC game. The Hokies scored in a Thursday night win over Maryland in 2004.
- Tech's 59 points were the most it has scored in a conference game since putting up 62 in a 1999 win over Temple.
- Tech last scored in all three phases of the game in a 2015 win at Purdue. The Hokies last scored two touchdowns on defense in the same game in 2008 loss at Boston College.

GAME EIGHT

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • OCT. 28, 2017 • ATT: 60,914

Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson rushed for a touchdown and threw a touchdown pass, and the Hokies' defense kept Duke out of the end zone to headline Tech's 24-3 victory over the Blue Devils in an ACC game played in the pouring rain Saturday evening at Lane Stadium.

The Hokies, ranked No. 13 nationally, won their third straight game and moved to 7-1 overall, 3-1 in the ACC. Duke lost its fifth straight and fell to 4-5 overall, 1-5 in league play.

Deshawn McCleese's 4-yard touchdown run in the first quarter capped a nine-play, 71-yard drive and gave Tech a lead it would not relinquish. The Hokies added a Joey Slye field goal in the second quarter and then delivered a crushing blow right before halftime when Jackson found Sean Savoy for a 26-yard touchdown with 15 seconds remaining in the half. That score gave the Hokies a 17-3 lead.

The Hokies' lone second-half score came late in the third quarter on Jackson's 6-yard run. Jackson completed just 12 of 26 for 160 yards and a score, and he rushed for 12 yards and a touchdown.

Duke's lone score came on a 31-yard field goal by Austin Parker in the second quarter. The Blue Devils finished with just 183 yards of offense, while Tech ended with 387 yards.

GAME NOTES

- For the fourth time this season at Lane Stadium, Tech's defense held an opponent to seven points or less. The last that happened occurred in 2007.
- Cam Phillips caught four passes for 35 yards against the Blue Devils, and he extended his school record of catching at least one pass in a game in 35 consecutive games.
- McCleese, getting extended playing time because of an injury to Steven Peoples, registered career highs in both carries (15) and yards (75). His previous career high in both came in the Hokies' 64-17 win over East Carolina – a game in which he carried the ball 11 times for 55 yards.
- Tech moved to 15-2 against unranked opponents under head coach Justin Fuente.
- The Hokies beat Duke for the 12th time in 14 meetings since joining the ACC.

GAME NINE

	13 VIRGINIA TECH	10
	9 MIAMI	28

HARD ROCK STADIUM • MIAMI GARDENS, FLA. • NOV. 4, 2017 • ATT: 63,932

Miami quarterback Malik Rosier threw two touchdown passes and rushed for a score to lead the No. 9 Hurricanes to a 28-10 victory over No. 13 Virginia Tech in an ACC game played Saturday at Hard Rock Stadium.

The loss snapped the Hokies' three-game winning streak, as Tech fell to 7-2 overall, 3-2 in the ACC. Miami extended its winning streak to 13 straight games dating back to last season and moved to 8-0 overall, 6-0 in the ACC.

Miami grabbed a 14-0 lead in the second quarter and never relinquished it. Rosier's 8-yard pass to Braxton Berrios gave the 'Canes a 7-0 lead with 9:41 left in the first half, and Miami grabbed a two-touchdown bulge on Travis Homer's 64-yard run less than three minutes later.

The Hokies used a Reggie Floyd interception to cut into the lead in the third quarter. Floyd's pick of Rosier set up Josh Jackson's 1-yard touchdown run to cut the lead to 14-10 with 11:39 left in the third quarter.

But Miami scored 14 unanswered to put the game away. Rosier accounted for 277 yards of Miami's 429 yards of offense.

Jackson completed 20 of 32 for 197 yards, with two interceptions for the Hokies, who finished with a season-low 299 yards and turned the ball over a season-high four times.

GAME NOTES

- Tech offensive tackle Yosuah Nijman missed the game with an injury. His absence snapped a string of 22 consecutive starts. Redshirt senior Parker Osterloh made the first start of his career.
- Receiver Cam Phillips' catch on the Hokies' second drive enabled him to extend his streak of catching at least one pass in a game to 36 straight games.
- Miami became just the second Tech opponent this season to score off a Hokie turnover. The 'Canes scored once off Jackson's interception. On Sept. 30, Clemson scored 14 points off three Tech turnovers.
- Virginia Tech kicker Joey Slye connected on a 50-yard field goal for the Hokies' lone score of the first half. The 50-yarder marked the second of his career from 50-plus and also extended the Hokies scoring streak to 292 straight games.
- Speaking of that scoring streak, Tech's streak is now the fifth-longest streak in FBS history and the third-longest active streak. The Hokies moved up after Air Force's 306-game streak ended Saturday after a 21-0 loss to Army.

GAME TEN

	17 VIRGINIA TECH	22
	GEORGIA TECH	28

BOBBY DODD STADIUM • ATLANTA, GA. • NOV. 11, 2017 • ATT: 47,909

Georgia Tech's TaQuon Marshall threw an 80-yard touchdown pass to Ricky Jeune with 6:30 remaining to lift the Yellow Jackets to a 28-22 victory over No. 17 Virginia Tech in an ACC game played at Bobby Dodd Stadium on Saturday.

With the loss, the Hokies fell to 7-3 overall, 3-3 in the ACC. Georgia Tech moved to 5-4, 4-3 and beat the Hokies for the third time in the past four meetings.

Virginia Tech had taken a 22-21 lead when Greg Stroman intercepted Marshall's pass and returned it 24 yards for a touchdown with 7:27 remaining. The Hokies went for two points, but failed to convert, leaving them with a one-point lead.

The Yellow Jackets then grabbed the 28-22 lead on the Marshall touchdown pass, and the Hokies had one last possession. Virginia Tech drove to the Georgia Tech 32, but pass attempts on third-and-1 and fourth-and-1 fell incomplete, and Georgia Tech ran out the clock.

Virginia Tech trailed for much of the game, but twice climbed back into it — once on a 14-yard touchdown run by Sean Savoy in the second quarter and an 8-yard touchdown run by Jalen Holston in the third quarter.

The Hokies finished with a season-low 258 yards. Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson completed 14 of 26 for 153 yards, and Eric Kumah caught six passes for 82 yards. Holston and Savoy led the Hokies in rushing with 32 yards each.

KirVonte Benson paced Georgia Tech with 86 yards rushing. The Yellow Jackets finished with 261 yards on the ground.

GAME NOTES

- Cam Phillips extended his string of catching at least one pass to 37 consecutive games. Phillips caught two passes for eight yards in the game.
- Anthony Shegog made his first start of the season, as he started at whip linebacker and Mook Reynolds started at rover. Reggie Floyd did not start, but played.
- Shegog came into the game with eight tackles on the season. He finished with a career-high 11 against the Yellow Jackets, including three for a loss, and he forced a fumble.
- Holston's touchdown run marked his third of the season. He also scored on runs against North Carolina and East Carolina.
- Savoy's touchdown marked his sixth of the season - four receiving and two rushing.
- Left tackle Parker Osterloh made his second straight start — and the second of his career — in place of injured Yosuah Nijman, who did not make the trip.

PITT VIRGINIA TECH

GAME ELEVEN

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • NOV. 18, 2017 • ATT: 58,948

Virginia Tech receiver Cam Phillips hauled in the game-winning touchdown and the defense had a goal-line stand in the final seconds to carry the Hokies to a 20-14 victory over Pittsburgh in an ACC game played Saturday afternoon at Lane Stadium.

With the win, Tech snapped a two-game losing streak, moving to 8-3 on the season and 4-3 in the ACC. The Hokies also beat the Panthers for the second straight year and for the third time in the past five meetings. Pittsburgh fell to 4-7 overall, 2-5 in the ACC.

Phillips broke the school record for career receiving yardage when he hauled in a 23-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Josh Jackson with 6:23 remaining. The Hokies went for two points and converted, but a penalty wiped it out, and the subsequent extra point gave them the 20-14 advantage.

On Pittsburgh's final drive of the game, it converted on fourth-and-4 when quarterback Kenny Pickett hit Jester Weah, who broke a tackle and raced to the Tech 1 before Tech's Reggie Floyd got him to the ground. That play set up a goal-line stand in which the Panthers couldn't get the ball in the end zone on four attempts. On the final play of the game, Floyd and Khalil Ladler tackled Pittsburgh tailback Darrin Hall for a 3-yard loss, setting off a wild celebration.

Phillips paced the Hokies with eight catches for 117 yards and the score. Josh Jackson completed just 17 of 37 for 218 yards, with a touchdown and an interception. The Hokies finished with 375 yards of offense.

Coming on in place of starter Ben DiNucci, Pickett completed 15 of 23 for 242 yards and one interception.

GAME NOTES

- Phillips' 100-yard game marked his fifth of the season and the sixth of his career.
- Phillips' 117 receiving yards enabled him to move past both past Jarrett Boykin (2,884 yards; 2008-11) and Isaiah Ford (2,967 yards, 2014-16) into first place on the all-time list for career receiving yards. He now has 2,981 yards.
- Phillips extended his streak of catching at least one pass in a game to 38 consecutive games.
- Greg Stroman's interception was his fourth of the season and the ninth of his career. His seven tackles were a career high. He leads the Hokies' defense in interceptions, pass breakups (11) and passes defended (15).
- Brian Johnson's 30-yard field goal in the second quarter marked the first of his career. Johnson played in place of Joey Slye, who has been bothered with a hamstring injury.
- Slye saw his scoring streak end at 42 consecutive games.
- Tailback Jalen Holston made the first start of his career.
- Deshaun McCleese's 70 yards rushing marked the second time this season in which he eclipsed the 70-yard mark. He had 75 in the Hokies win over Duke.

GAME TWELVE

24 VIRGINIA TECH VIRGINIA 10 0

SMITH/HARRISON/SCOTT • CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA. • NOV. 24, 2017 • ATT: 48,609

Virginia Tech quarterback Josh Jackson threw a third-quarter touchdown pass to Chris Cunningham, and the Hokies' defense made it stand, as Tech shut out in-state rival Virginia 10-0 in the annual Commonwealth Clash game played Friday night at Scott Stadium.

With the win, the Hokies beat their rivals for the 14th consecutive time. Tech moved to 9-3 overall on the season, 5-3 in the ACC, while Virginia fell to 6-6, 3-5.

Virginia Tech's defense played arguably its best game of the year, as the Hokies recorded their third shutout of the season and shut out the Cavaliers for the 15th time in the 99 meetings. The shutout also marked the third time in this 14-game winning streak.

The Hokies held the Cavaliers to just 191 yards and sacked UVA quarterback Kurt Benkert four times. UVA averaged just 3.5 yards per play and converted just 4 of 15 attempts on third down.

The biggest play in the game came on the opening drive of the second half. On the second play of the half, Virginia's Chris Sharp fumbled after taking a big hit from Tech's Reggie Floyd. The Hokies' Houshun Gaines recovered at the UVA 40.

Tech wasted little time in capitalizing, going 40 yards in four plays. On third-and-3 from the UVA 8 Jackson found Cunningham in the end zone for a touchdown that gave the Hokies a 10-0 lead.

That was all that they needed on this evening. Virginia's four remaining second-half drives ended in three punts and a turnover on downs.

The Hokies' only other score came on a 30-yard field goal by Brian Johnson in the second quarter.

Tech finished with 345 yards of offense. Jackson completed 14 of 21 for 143 yards, with the touchdown and an interception. Steven Peoples, who had missed the previous three games, and DeShawn McCleese each rushed for 71 yards.

GAME NOTES

- The Hokies played without five starters — receiver Sean Savoy, free safety/whip Mook Reynolds, free safety Terrell Edmunds, offensive tackle Yosuah Nijman, and kicker Joey Slye. All are dealing with various injuries and illnesses. Edmunds is out for the remainder of the season.
- Tremaine Edmunds, a Butkus Award finalist, made quite the impression in the regular-season finale, finishing with nine tackles, including three for a loss, and two sacks. He now leads the team in tackles (102), tackles for a loss (14), sacks (5.5) and forced fumbles (3).
- Cam Phillips hauled in a 23-yard reception toward the end of the first quarter, and that catch extended his school-record streak of catching at least one pass in a game to 39 consecutive games. He finished with three catches for 46 yards.
- Hezekiah Grimsley, a true freshman receiver, made the first start of his career, and he caught a team-best five passes for 56 yards. He came into the game with just two receptions on the season.
- The Hokies have now scored in 295 straight games — the sixth-longest streak in FBS history and the fourth-longest active streak.
- Jovonn Quillen got a piece of a punt by UVA punter Lester Coleman in the first quarter. He also got a piece of one in the Pittsburgh game, thus becoming the first Tech player to block kicks in back-to-back games since former defensive end Dadi Nicolas did so at Pitt and vs. Miami in 2014.
- Cunningham caught four touchdown passes last season, but hadn't caught any this season until hauling in an 8-yard touchdown catch from Jackson in the third quarter.

2017 GAME-BY-GAME

GAME THIRTEEN

22 VIRGINIA TECH 21
17 OKLAHOMA STATE 30

CAMPING WORLD STADIUM • ORLANDO, FLA. • DEC. 28, 2017 • ATT: 39,610

Despite getting a career-high 124 yards rushing from Deshawn McCleese and owning the time of possession, Virginia Tech couldn't slow high-powered Oklahoma State, falling 30-21 to the Cowboys in the Camping World Bowl played at Camping World Stadium on Thursday evening.

With the loss, the Hokies closed the 2017 season with a 9-4 record and saw their three-game bowl winning streak snapped. Oklahoma State finished at 10-3, winning 10 games in a season for the third straight tie and the sixth time under head coach Mike Gundy.

The Hokies trailed 27-14 late in the game, but the Oklahoma State lead to 27-21 on a 5-yard touchdown run by quarterback Josh Jackson. The score capped a seven-play, 61-yard drive that pulled Tech to within six points.

But on the ensuing drive, the Cowboys marched deep into Tech territory, with the key play coming on third-and-11 from the Tech 49. Oklahoma State tailback Justice Hill ran for a 31-yard gain, and that led to a 38-yard field goal from Matt Ammendola that essentially sealed the game with 2:34 left.

Tech lost despite 518 yards of offense, including 248 on the ground. The Hokies also converted 10 of 18 on third downs and dominated in time of possession (38:13-21:47), but two turnovers inside the Oklahoma State 30 – including one at the Oklahoma State 1 – ended two great scoring opportunities.

GAME NOTES

- McCleese's previous career high both in rushing and carries was 55 yards on 11 carries against East Carolina. He ran the ball 18 times against the Cowboys.
- Jackson's touchdown runs marked his fifth and sixth rushing touchdowns of the season, and his touchdown pass to Kumah was his 20th passing touchdown.
- Kumah's touchdown reception marked his second of the season. He also caught one in the Hokies' win over North Carolina.
- Tech's 18-play drive spanning the first and second quarters marked its longest drive of the season, both in terms of plays and time of possession (10:06). The previous longest was a 14-play drive in the win over North Carolina that took 7:04.
- Phil Patterson caught a career-high seven passes for 59 yards. He entered the game with just two catches for 29 yards on the season.
- Andrew Motuapuaka closed his career by starting his final 36 games.
- Tremaine Edmunds extended his start streak to 28 straight games.

VIRGINIA TECH'S UNANIMOUS ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

JIM PYNE
C • 1993

In 1993, Jim Pyne achieved something even Bruce Smith failed to do – earn unanimous All-America honors. Pyne helped pave the way for an offensive unit that set school season marks for total offense and scoring in 1993.

The Hokies averaged 444.1 yards and 36.4 points per game and finished 14th nationally in total offense, 11th in scoring offense and 10th in rushing.

Pyne was named first-team All-America by the AP,

UPI, Walter Camp, the Football Writers Association and the Football Coaches Association (Kodak). He was one of the 12 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award, which goes to the nation's top lineman.

In four seasons at Tech, Pyne played more than 2,700 snaps and allowed just one quarterback sack. He started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 games in which he played.

COREY MOORE
DE • 1998, 1999 (Unanimous)

Following an outstanding senior season in 1999, Corey Moore was voted first-team on all six major All-America teams to become the Hokies' second unanimous All-American. He was selected first-team by the AP, the Football Writers Association, the Football Coaches Association, Walter Camp, The Sporting News and Football News.

Moore posted a BIG EAST record 17 sacks during the '99 season to go with 11 other TFLs and 60 total tackles.

He also earned All-America honors in 1998 when he led the BIG EAST with 13.5 sacks. He gained first-team All-America recognition from the Football Coaches Association. Moore was a second-team pick by the AP and The Sporting News and a third-team choice of Football News.

JAKE GROVE
C • 2002, 2003 (Unanimous)

Jake Grove became the third unanimous All-American in Tech football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the FWAA, the AFCA, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP. He was a fourth-team All-American in 2002 (Sporting News).

As a senior, he was named first-team All-BIG EAST and was presented the Rimington Trophy in Lincoln, Neb., honoring the nation's top collegiate center.

In 13 regular season games, Grove graded out at 91.8 percent on over 700 offensive plays and led the offensive line in knockdowns with 48.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Oakland Raiders in the 2004 NFL Draft as the first center taken.

JIMMY WILLIAMS
DB • 2005

Jimmy Williams became Tech's fourth unanimous All-American in football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the Football Writers Association of America, the American Football Coaches Association, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP.

As a senior, he was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast

Conference and was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe award, honoring the nation's top collegiate defensive back.

In 13 games, he recorded 44 tackles, including two for loss and a sack, along with 14 quarterback hurries, five pass break ups and an interception.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2006 NFL Draft.

THE HOKIES' OTHER FIRST-TEAM SELECTIONS

CARROLL DALE
E • 1959

After earning second-team Associated Press All-America honors as a junior in 1958, Carroll Dale went on to become the first Virginia Tech football player to earn first-team All-America honors following the 1959 season. Dale was named to the Football Writers Association (LOOK Magazine) and Newspaper Enterprise Association first teams as a senior and was once again a second-team choice by the AP. He led Tech in receiving four straight years and finished the '59 season with 17 receptions for 408 yards and six touchdowns.

BOB SCHWEICKERT
QB • 1963, 1964

One of the finest triple-threat quarterbacks in the history of the Southern Conference, Bob Schweickert was named to the LOOK All-America team picked by the Football Writers Association following the 1964 season. Schweickert fought off injuries during the '64 season to rush for 576 yards and nine touchdowns and pass for 833 yards and nine more TDs.

He also handled the punting duties with a 37.7-yard average. As a junior in 1963, Schweickert earned third-team All-America honors from The Associated Press.

FRANK LORIA
S • 1966, 1967 (Consensus)

Safety Frank Loria was the first Tech football player to gain first-team All-America honors in back-to-back seasons and became the Hokies' first consensus All-America pick in 1967. As a junior in 1966, Loria helped Tech to the Liberty Bowl, contributing three interceptions and returning three punts for touchdowns. He was named to first-team A-A squads picked by The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association and was a second-team selection by the Helms Athletic Foundation. Loria was named to six major All-America squads following the 1967 season. He finished the year with three interceptions and 420 yards on punt returns, including a 95-yard return for a TD against Miami. His first-team honors came from the AP, United Press International, NEA, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association and the Walter Camp Foundation.

MIKE WIDGER
LB • 1968

Mike Widger capped an incredible junior season by earning first-team All-America honors from The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association. Widger compiled a record 825 tackling points and was among the national leaders in pass interceptions (7) and return yardage (203 yards). He returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns and scored another TD after pulling the football loose from a Kansas State running back and racing 46 yards to the end zone.

BRUCE SMITH
DT • 1983, 1984 (Consensus)

Bruce Smith was named to first-team All-America squads picked by the Football Coaches Association and the Newspaper Enterprise Association after registering an incredible 22 quarterback sacks as a junior in 1983. Smith, who also was named to The Associated Press second team that year, finished with a total of 55 tackles, 31 of which were behind the line of scrimmage. As a senior in 1984, Smith accumulated 16 sacks and nine other tackles behind the line. He finished the year with 69 total tackles and was a consensus All-America pick, making first teams selected by the AP, the Football Writers of America, Kodak and Walter Camp.

Hokies First-Team All-America Selections

EUGENE CHUNG
OT • 1991

When Eugene Chung was named to the Football Writers Association All-America team following his senior season, he became the first Tech offensive lineman to win first-team All-America honors. Chung started every game at tackle for the Hokies in 1991, allowing just one quarterback sack in 730 plays. The Washington Gridiron Club honored Chung as the National Lineman of the Year.

CORNELL BROWN
DE • 1995 (Consensus), 1996

Cornell Brown became the first Virginia Tech football player to gain consensus All-America honors as a junior when he was named to five first teams in 1995. Brown was a first-team A-A pick by AP, UPI, the Football Writers Association, The Sporting News and Football News. He finished the year with 103 total tackles, including a BIG EAST-leading 14 sacks. He was selected National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News and was one of five finalists for the Defensive Player of the Year. In 1996, Brown missed three games, but still earned first-team honors from Walter Camp and second-team recognition from AP. He posted eight sacks, five other tackles behind the line, 19 quarterback hurries and 58 total tackles during the '96 season.

BILLY CONATY
C • 1996

Considered one of the top offensive linemen in school history, Billy Conaty saw action on 98 percent of Virginia Tech's offensive plays in 1996 and went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. Conaty helped the Hokies to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Orange Bowl that season, grading a winning percentage in 10 of the 12 games and leading the squad with 65 knockdown blocks. He finished his career by setting an all-time school record for starts and consecutive starts with 48.

MICHAEL VICK
QB • 1999

In a spectacular freshman season that saw him lead Virginia Tech to its first ever 11-0 regular season and its first appearance in the national championship game, Michael Vick became the first Tech freshman football player to earn first-team All-America honors. Vick was named first-team by The Sporting News. He also was a second-team pick by The Associated Press. The redshirt freshman quarterback was third in the voting for the 1999 Heisman Trophy and second in the voting for the AP Player of the Year. Vick led Division I-A in passing efficiency (180.37), setting a NCAA record for a freshman in the process. He completed 59.2 percent of his passes for 1,840 yards and 12 touchdowns. He also contributed 585 yards and eight TDs rushing.

ANDRÉ DAVIS
PR • 2000

André Davis finished the 2000 season second in the Division I-A ranks in punt returns and earned first-team All-America honors on the American Football Coaches Association team as a return specialist. Davis returned 18 punts for 396 yards for a school-record average of 22 yards per return. He tied another school season mark when he returned three punts for touchdowns. His 87-yard TD return against East Carolina was the second-longest in school history.

KEVIN JONES
RB • 2003 (Consensus)

One of the highest-rated recruits ever to sign with Virginia Tech, Kevin Jones rushed for a school-record 1,647 yards, including 241 yards against Pittsburgh, on 281 attempts with 21 touchdowns as a junior in '03. He went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation, FWAA and AFCA. He was named to the second team by AP.

DARRYL TAPP
DE • 2005

Considered one of the best defensive ends in school history, Darryl Tapp capped an incredible career, earning first-team All-America honors by AFCA and second-team honors by The Associated Press. During his senior season, Tapp, who started all 13 games, recorded team-bests for sacks, tackles for loss and forced fumbles. He recorded 10 sacks, 14.5 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Tapp was also fifth on the team in tackles. He won the Dudley Award, given to the state's top player, and was a Lott Trophy finalist.

XAVIER ADIBI
LB • 2007

Xavier Adibi teamed with fellow linebacker Vince Hall throughout his career to form what was arguably the best linebacking duo in school history. Though he enjoyed a breakout season as a junior, Adibi put up eye-popping numbers as a senior on his way to first-team All-America honors from the American Football Coaches Association. He led the team with 115 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss, while chipping in three sacks and two interceptions – one of which he returned for a touchdown. In addition to being named first-team All-ACC, Adibi was also awarded a spot on The Associated Press All-America third team.

BRANDON FLOWERS
CB • 2007

Despite leaving a year early for the NFL, cornerback Brandon Flowers became only the seventh Hokie to be named a two-time All-American when he was placed on the American Football Coaches Association first team after his junior season. He was also named second team by both The Associated Press and the Walter Camp Football Foundation. Flowers was a third-team AP honoree as a sophomore. In 2007, he placed third on the team with 86 tackles from his secondary spot, adding eight tackles for loss in the process. After leading the ACC in 2006 in passes broken up and passes defended, opponents shied away from him as a junior, but he still managed nine breakups, 14 passes defended and a career-high five interceptions.

VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS
CB • 2008

One of the nation's top cornerbacks, Victor Harris earned first-team All-America honors from Sporting News and was a second-team pick by The Associated Press after a stellar senior season. Harris considered entering the NFL Draft following his junior year, but decided to return, earning his degree along with A-A honors. He tied for 11th nationally in interceptions with six, two of which he returned for touchdowns. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, he finished fourth in the league in interceptions and passes defended, and third in punt returns. His 15 career interceptions rank third all-time at Tech, while his four career TDs on picks are an all-time record for a Hokie.

JAYRON HOSLEY
CB • 2010

Jayron Hosley tied a 43-year old Virginia Tech season record for interceptions on the way to being selected first-team on the Walter Camp All-America squad. Hosley led the nation in interceptions with nine and tied for third in most passes defended with 17. The sophomore cornerback was also a second-team A-A pick by The Associated Press and earned the National Defensive Back Trophy from the College Football Performance Awards. Hosley was named first team All-ACC after topping the league in both interceptions and passes defended. He also ranked second among ACC players in punt returns.

JAKE GROVE WON THE RIMINGTON TROPHY IN 2003

Jake Grove arrived on the Virginia Tech campus as a lightly recruited guard from Forest, Va. He left as a unanimous All-American, winner of the Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center and a second-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Heading into his junior season, Grove made the switch over to the center position and became a natural fit. By the time he headed into his final season, he was gaining headlines and recognition for his play. He was rewarded by being named to all five major All-America first teams. He was awarded the Dave Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

MICHAEL VICK WON AN ESPY AS THE NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR IN 1999

When Michael Vick took to the field against James Madison on Sept. 4, 1999, little did people in attendance or watching on television realize they would be witnessing the beginning of the most exciting two years in Virginia Tech football history.

In 1999, Vick led the Hokies to a perfect 11-0 regular season and a berth in the national championship game, both firsts in school history. The Hokies lost that game to Florida State, but all the talk was about the performance the redshirt freshman put on in that game.

For his accomplishments that year, he was awarded an ESPY by ESPN, given to the nation's top college football player. Vick was awarded the trophy at the ESPY ceremonies on Feb. 14, 2000, in Las Vegas as he mingled with some of sports' all-time greats.

COREY MOORE EARNED THE LOMBARDI AND NAGURSKI AWARDS IN 1999

In three years on campus, Corey Moore amassed 35 sacks for losses, totaling 292 yards. He left Tech as the most decorated player ever to put on the Hokie uniform. He won the 1999 Bronko Nagurski Award as college football's Defensive Player of the Year. Moore also won the 1999 Lombardi Award as college football's lineman of the year. He became Tech's second-ever unanimous All-American, joining Jim Pyne. Moore won the Dudley Award as the top college player in Virginia, the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year award and was selected as Football News' Defensive Player of the Year.

BRUCE SMITH WON THE OUTLAND TROPHY AS THE TOP LINEMAN IN 1984

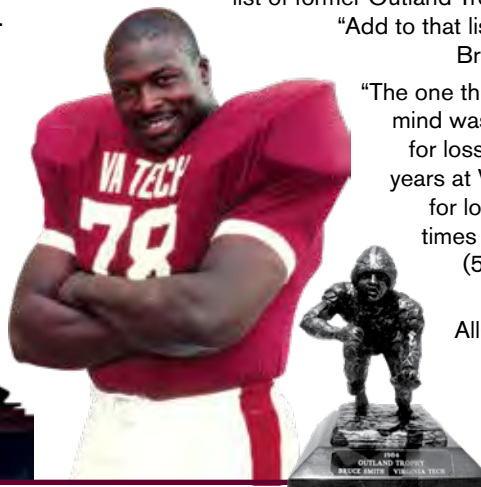

Bruce Smith, "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, capped his sensational college career in 1984 by winning the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman.

The big announcement was made by Wilt Browning at a press luncheon in Tech's Bowman Room. Browning, a sports columnist of The Greensboro Daily News and a committee member of the Football Writers' Association of America, began by reading a long list of former Outland Trophy winners. He then said,

"Add to that list today, the 1984 winner – Bruce Smith of Virginia Tech."

"The one thing though, that stuck in my mind was the statistic on his tackles for losses," Browning said. "In four years at Virginia Tech, he accounted for losses totaling more than five times the length of a football field (504 yards). That's amazing."

Smith was a consensus All-American and was the first Virginian to win one of the national awards (including the Heisman and the Lombardi).

CARROLL DALE

A native of Wise, Va., Carroll Dale entered Virginia Tech in 1956 as an offensive and defensive end. After seeing varsity action as a reserve in the first game of the '56 season, Dale went on to start the remaining 39 games of his college career and became Tech's first bona fide All-American. As a junior in 1958, he was named the Southern Conference Player of the Year. In 1959, Dale was captain of the Tech team and earned first-team A-A honors. Dale led the Hokies in pass receiving each of his four seasons and finished his Tech career with 67 catches for 1,195 yards and 15 touchdowns. He went on to a pro football career that lasted more than a decade and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987. His Tech jersey was the first to be retired.

BRUCE SMITH

Known as "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, Bruce Smith capped his sensational college career in 1984. As a Tech player, Smith had a career total of 71 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 504 yards. Smith had 46 career quarterback sacks, including 22 during his junior season in 1983 when he was named first-team All-America. In 1984, the Norfolk, Va., native won the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman and was a consensus All-American. Smith was the No. 1 player picked in the 1985 National Football League draft. During his pro career, he established himself as one of the greatest defensive players ever to play the game. He ended his career in 2003 as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 200.

FRANK LORIA

Despite his 5-9, 175-pound frame, Frank Loria was one of the most tenacious football players ever to play for Virginia Tech. Loria, who started every game at safety from 1965-67, rapidly established himself as one of Tech's all-time greats. During his junior year, he earned first-team All-American honors. As a senior in 1967, Loria became Tech's first consensus All-American, making seven first-team All-American squads. He finished his Tech career with seven interceptions and a number of punt return records. He went on to coach at Marshall. In 1970, at age 23, he died in an airplane tragedy that claimed the lives of the Marshall football team and staff. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1999. His number was retired prior to the 1971 season.

JIM PYNE

Center Jim Pyne became Virginia Tech's first unanimous All-American when he made all five major teams that were selected in 1993. In addition to All-America honors, Pyne was named winner of the Dudley Award as Virginia's Player of the Year. During his four seasons at Tech, he established himself as one of the Hokies' top linemen of all time, leading the charge for the 1993 team that rewrote the school record books for scoring and total offense. Pyne started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 Tech games in which he played. He allowed just one quarterback sack by the man he was assigned to block during more than 2,700 career snaps. Pyne spent nine seasons as an NFL lineman before becoming an assistant coach in the pro ranks.

BEAMER AMONG FIVE WHO HAVE HAD JERSEYS RETIRED

In 2002, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department developed a new policy on retiring football jerseys. This special honor is bestowed to acknowledge an individual who has won an established national award in their sport, while allowing the number to continue to be worn by others. Tech no longer retires numbers. That year, three jerseys were retired in ceremonies. The jerseys of Frank Beamer, Cornell Brown and Michael Vick were the first to be honored. In 2006, Jake Grove had the same honor bestowed upon him. Corey Moore's jersey has been retired since 2009.

Michael Vick · Sept. 1, 2002
Won 2000 ESPY as College Football's Performer of the Year.

Frank Beamer · Sept. 12, 2002
Winner of eight national coach of the year awards following Tech's 1999 season.

Cornell Brown · Nov. 20, 2002
Named 1995 National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News in 1995.

Jake Grove · Sept. 23, 2006
Winner of the 2003 Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

Corey Moore · Oct. 23, 2010
Won Lombardi and Nagurski Awards in 1999.

GAME SUMMARY

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats scored three second-half touchdowns to defeat Virginia Tech 18-6 at Kidd Field. The game, played in freezing conditions, marked Tech's first bowl appearance and the first bowl game in which a football team from the commonwealth of Virginia had participated. The Hokies trailed 12-0 before scoring their lone touchdown on a 3-yard run by Ralph Beard on fourth-and-goal. A Cincinnati interception, though, set up a 3-yard touchdown run by Don McMillan to put the game away for the Bearcats.

GAME SUMMARY

The Miami Hurricanes, getting its second wind from a third-quarter roughing the kicker penalty, rebounded for two touchdowns in the second half to register a come-from-behind 14-7 win over Virginia Tech at Memorial Stadium. The Hokies took a 7-0 lead on a 2-yard run by Tommy Francisco, but couldn't hold it, squandering two other scoring opportunities in the first half. A third-quarter touchdown pass from Miami quarterback Bill Miller to Joe Mira tied the game and a fourth-quarter touchdown run by Doug McGee turned out to be the game winner.

GAME SUMMARY

Quarterback Bart Weiss got Air Force's wishbone attack going in the second half and led the Falcons to a 23-7 victory over Virginia Tech at Independence Stadium. Tech took a 7-3 lead in the first quarter on a 10-play, 72-yard drive that ended with a 3-yard touchdown run by Maurice Williams, but the game changed midway through the second quarter when the Falcons forced and recovered a fumble at the Tech 3. Halfback Jody Simmons took a pitchout to the left and put Air Force ahead for good. The turnover was one of four for the Hokies, as Air Force used its ground attack to control the clock. The Falcons rushed for 221 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech earned its first bowl victory in dramatic fashion when Chris Kinzer hit a 40-yard field goal as time expired to give the Hokies a 25-24 comeback win over North Carolina State at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The Hokies rallied from a 21-10 deficit, converting two NC State second-half turnovers into touchdowns to take a 22-21 lead. The Wolfpack regained the lead on a field goal by Mike Cofer with 7:12 remaining, but the Hokies drove to the NC State 23 in the final two minutes to set up Kinzer's game winner.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored two touchdowns in the final 35 seconds of the first half to spark an unforgettable 45-20 victory over Indiana at Independence Stadium. The Hokies' Lawrence Lewis returned a fumble 20 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-13 lead with less than 35 seconds to go in the first half. Indiana got to the Tech 42 on the ensuing possession and lined up to try a field goal, but the Hokies blocked it and Antonio Banks returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. That gave the Hokies a 28-13 halftime lead and they never looked back. Tech quarterback Maurice DeShazo threw two touchdown passes in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Quick-striking Tennessee got off to a big early lead and went on to defeat Virginia Tech 45-23 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium on the University of Florida campus. Tech backed itself into a corner early, throwing an interception on the game's second play. The Volunteers kept the Hokies there with a variety of big plays that resulted in a 35-10 halftime advantage. Overall, Tennessee had seven plays of 20 or more yards and a total of 495 yards of offense. James Stewart had three rushing touchdowns for the Volunteers, while Peyton Manning threw a touchdown pass. Tech's Dwayne Thomas paced the Hokies with 102 yards rushing and a score.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored one of the most stirring victories in the university's athletics history when it came from behind to defeat Texas 28-10 at the Superdome. Tech spotted the favored Longhorns a 10-0 lead and then race back behind the play of flanker Bryan Still, who returned a punt 60 yards for a Tech touchdown with 2:34 left in the first half, caught a 27-yard pass from quarterback Jim Druckenmiller at the Texas 2-yard line to set up a touchdown run by Marcus Parker that put the Hokies ahead 14-10, and got behind the Texas defenders to haul in a 54-yard touchdown pass from Druckenmiller. That play spelled doom for the Longhorns and helped earn Still the game's MVP award.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech's second venture into Bowl Alliance territory wasn't as successful as the first, as the Hokies fell 41-21 to power-packed Nebraska at Pro Player Stadium. Nebraska out-gained Tech by just seven yards, 415 to 408, and managed to lead by only three points with less than one minute remaining in the third quarter. In the end, it was the Nebraska depth that wore down the Hokies. Tech quarterback Jim Druckenmiller threw three touchdown passes and Ken Oxendine rushed for 150 yards on 20 carries in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

A sellout crowd of 41,600 who braved a freezing rain and a wind chill that dipped to 14 degrees watched as Virginia Tech beat Alabama 38-7 in the inaugural Music City Bowl at Vanderbilt Stadium. Quarterback Al Clark got Tech off to a quick start with a 43-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game. In the second half, Corey Moore forced an interception that led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Lamont Pegues and then he blocked a punt that set up a 4-yard touchdown by Shyrone Stith. Anthony Midget's interception return for a touchdown sealed the Hokies' first win over the Tide.

GAME SUMMARY

In a breathtaking game, Tech rallied from a 21-point first-half deficit to take the lead from Florida State going into the fourth quarter. But the Hokies simply couldn't overcome their mistakes nor the big plays of the Seminoles, and as a result, FSU walked off the field with a 46-29 Sugar Bowl victory and the national title at the Superdome. The Hokies trailed 28-7, but took a 29-28 lead on Michael Vick's 3-yard touchdown run with 37 seconds left in the third. The Seminoles scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, though, to pull away. Vick finished with 323 of the Hokies' 503 yards of total offense.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies took the Auburn Tigers to the final two minutes of the game, but could not pull off the upset, falling to the Tigers 16-13 at the Superdome. Trailing 16-6 with 2:13 showing on the clock, Tech cut into the lead when quarterback Bryan Randall hit Josh Morgan for an 80-yard touchdown strike to bring Tech within three points with 2:01 remaining. Auburn, though, recovered Tech's onside kick and ran out the clock to register the win. Randall accounted for 344 yards of offense in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies twice rallied from 11-point deficits and scored 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to knock off Louisville 35-24 at Alltel Stadium. Tech trailed 24-13 in the fourth quarter, but a Cedric Humes touchdown run and a two-point conversion cut the deficit to 24-21. Then following a Louisville turnover, Tech's Marcus Vick threw a touchdown pass to Jeff King that enabled the Hokies to take the lead. James Anderson's interception return for a score sealed the win for Tech. Humes rushed for 113 yards and the touchdown in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Hokies' second-half turnovers proved costly, as Georgia scored 28 unanswered points in the final 30 minutes to knock off Tech 31-24 at the Georgia Dome. The Hokies jumped out to the 18-point halftime lead thanks to two 1-yard touchdown runs by tailback Branden Ore and a 53-yard pass from receiver Eddie Royal to tight end Sam Wheeler on a trick play. But Tech turned the ball over four times in the second half and three of those turnovers led to 18 Georgia points. The Hokies finished with just 189 yards of offense.

Tech's defense did not allow a point in the second half for the fifth straight game and allowed just 112 yards of offense in the final 30 minutes - 43 of that coming in Vols' final drive with the outcome well in hand. The defense also recorded six sacks. Williams rushed for 117 yards and two touchdowns, breaking Tech's single-season rushing record of 1,647 yards set by former tailback Kevin Jones in 2003. Williams finished the season with 1,655 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Michigan kicker Brendan Gibbons booted a game-winning 37-yard field goal in overtime, as the Wolverines knocked off Virginia Tech 23-20 in a wild Sugar Bowl at the Superdome. Tech lost the coin flip in overtime and Michigan decided to play defense first. On third-and-5 from the Michigan 20, Tech quarterback Logan Thomas appeared to have thrown a touchdown pass to receiver Danny Coale in the corner of the end zone. Officials originally ruled the play a touchdown, but reviewed it, and then reversed the call, saying Coale didn't maintain control of the ball. Tech's defense only gave up 184 yards in the game, but turnovers and penalties kept the Wolverines in the game.

Virginia Tech kicker Cody Journell drilled a 22-yard field goal in overtime, and Rutgers kicker Nick Borgese misfired from 42-yards out on the Scarlet Knights' possession, enabling the Hokies to rally for a 13-10 overtime victory at the Florida Citrus Bowl. Tech entered the fourth quarter down 10-0, but a 25-yard field goal from Journell cut the Rutgers lead to 10-3 with 12:14 left in the game. Then, moments later, cornerback Antone Exum intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Rutgers 21. That put the Hokies in perfect field position with 11:11 remaining and they tied the game on a 21-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Logan Thomas to Corey Fuller. Tech's defense held Rutgers' offense without a touchdown and allowed just 196 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

J.C. Coleman set a Virginia Tech bowl record for rushing yards and Joey Slye booted four field goals as the Hokies wrapped up the 2014 season with a 33-17 win over the University of Cincinnati at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. Coleman was named MVP after running for 157 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries. The 157 yards set a new Tech bowl record for yards, surpassing Kevin Jones and Darren Evans, who each ran for 153 yards in a game. Slye's four field goals tied the school record for made field goals in a bowl game. Justin Myer hit four field goals in the 2012 Sugar Bowl against Michigan. Tech's defense allowed 489 yards of UC offense, but had two interceptions and clamped down in big situations to thwart drives.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech made the final game for its head coach a memorable one, beating Tulsa 55-52 at Independence Stadium. The win marked the final one for Frank Beamer, who decided in November to retire at the conclusion of the season after 29 seasons as the Hokies' head coach. Tech's players doused Beamer as he walked across the field to shake the hands of Tulsa coach Philip Montgomery. The Hokies led 55-37 with 11 minutes remaining and held on, getting a sack from Dadi Nicolas on Tulsa's final drive to seal the game. Tech receiver Isaiah Ford caught 12 passes for 227 yards, both bowl records for the Hokies, and Travon McMillian rushed for two of the Hokies' five touchdowns in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech quarterback Jerod Evans accounted for four second-half touchdowns and Tech's defense forced four turnovers in the second half, as the No. 22 Hokies rallied from a 24-0 halftime deficit to knock off Arkansas 35-24 in the Belk Bowl. The Hokies' 24-point rally was the biggest since 1987 and believed to be the biggest in school history. Tech turned the ball over twice in the first half, and the Razorbacks scored 10 points off of those - part of their 24-point barrage. But Tech's Chuck Clark arguably turned the game, forcing a fumble on Arkansas' first possession of the second half. Woody Baron recovered for the Hokies, and Evans scored on a 4-yard run for Tech's first score of the game. Arkansas turned it over four times in the second half - and the Hokies scored touchdowns after every one of them. A Tremaine Edmunds interception led to a 5-yard touchdown pass from Evans to tight end Chris Cunningham with 4 minutes left in the third quarter that cut the lead to 24-21. Tech took its first lead of the game on a 6-yard touchdown run by Travon McMillian with 12:03 left in the game. The Hokies then iced it when Terrell Edmunds' interception led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Evans with 6:41 remaining that accounted for the final margin.

FRANK BEAMER INTRODUCTORY NEWS CONFERENCE

Virginia Tech fans are still beaming about their New Peach Bowl victory over N.C. State. But if such postseason success is to continue, it will be up to Frank Beamer.

Two days before Christmas, Beamer, 40, was named Tech's successor to head football coach Bill Dooley. And from the look of his credentials, it could be a prized gift for the Hokies.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler,
Jan. 6, 1987 issue

FRANK BEAMER'S FIRST PRACTICE

"The players have treated me fairly. I'm a big person on trust, and I think you build relationships over time and not just on a few practices. I hope our relationship will grow tighter and tighter as time goes on."

—Frank Beamer, Hokie Huddler,
April 21, 1987 issue

ACCEPTANCE OF THE 1993 INDEPENDENCE BOWL INVITATION

The Hokies thrashed the Orangemen 45-24 before a season-high crowd of 44,722 at Lane Stadium. The win also gave Frank Beamer his most wins—seven—as head coach at his alma mater.

More importantly, Independence Bowl Chairman Mike McCarthy extended the Hokies an invitation to play in Shreveport on Dec. 31. The team accepted in a meeting held at 4:30 p.m.

1995 SUGAR BOWL VICTORY OVER TEXAS

The Hokies closed their finest season in their 103-year football history with an improbable 10-game winning streak that came on the heels of an ugly 0-2 start. Despite that streak and a co-BIG EAST championship, many questioned whether Tech, 2-8-1 just four years ago, belonged in a major bowl. There should be no questions after Sunday's dominant defensive performance.

—David Teel, The Daily Press, Jan. 1, 1996

“Frank Beamer has been one of the icons, in my mind, in this era of coaching. He has a fantastic record at Virginia Tech and been there a long, long time. He’s one of the great guys in our profession. I’ve always admired him as a coach, but also the professional character that he always carries himself with and the way he treats other people.”

—Alabama head coach Nick Saban

“Frank Beamer is, has been and will remain a beacon of light for college football. Not only a great career at Virginia Tech, but most importantly, a tremendous leader and model for the young men in his program and his personal family. He has guided so many to become successful in life through a value system much needed to today’s society. A sincere and caring family man, Frank has brought that feeling to the entirety of his university.”

—Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder

COLLEGE GAMEDAY VISITS FOR THE FIRST TIME

Tech fans certainly got excited over the arrival of Chris Fowler, Kirk Herbstreit and the infamous Lee Corso—the trio who made up College Gameday. Between 12,000-13,000 fans packed the press box side of Lane Stadium just to yell and scream and be on television.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Oct. 22, 1999 issue

1999 COACH OF THE YEAR AWARDS

This season was a season of firsts for Tech's 53-year-old head coach. He was named Region I Coach of the Year as voted on by the American Football Coaches Association. He's speaking at the prestigious Heisman Trophy Award dinner next week. He became one of just a handful of coaches nationwide ever to lead a team to an unbeaten regular season. And then there's this little matter of playing for the national title.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Dec. 10, 1999 issue

CONGRATULATORY CALL FROM PRESIDENT BILL CLINTON

Tech coach Frank Beamer received a postgame phone call from President Bill Clinton following the Hokies' 46-29 loss to Florida State in the national championship game. He congratulated Tech on a stellar effort and a great season.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Jan. 12, 2000 issue

FRANK BEAMER TURNS DOWN NORTH CAROLINA TO STAY IN BLACKSBURG

"It was certainly nothing against North Carolina. Everything and everyone was very gracious, and I appreciate it. But when you get away a little bit, you realize how special this place is and the relationships that we have at this place. And the excitement and the fans that we have at this place... there's just so many things. I know the grass looks greener sometimes. But when you sit back and look, you can see how green the grass is here."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com the newspaper, Dec. 8, 2000 issue

TECH RETIRES FRANK BEAMER'S NO. 25 JERSEY

"I'm certainly not the athlete the rest of those guys hanging up there are. But this place has been special... for me. It's been a dream to be in this position. It's a real honor for me."

— Frank Beamer, hokiesports the newspaper, Sept. 20, 2002 issue

"I remember him sitting on my couch, the smile he had on his face, the enthusiasm and him really impressing my mom with his delivery. That was special because he made her smile and made me believe that he wanted me in that moment, and for him to take his time to come down there was really a special moment."

— Former Virginia Tech QB Michael Vick

2004 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR HONOR

It came as little surprise that, the week after the Miami game, Tech coach Frank Beamer earned the ACC's Coach of the Year honor. It also came as little surprise that he received SI.com's national Coach of the Year honor. He deserved it. But while the awards reflect on him, they also reflect on his staff. Truthfully, they did their best coaching job this season.

— Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Dec. 17, 2004 issue.

"When people think of Hokie football, they think of Frank Beamer. It was an honor to have competed against you and I want to wish you and your wife, Cheryl, and your children and grandchildren all the best during your next adventure. Congratulations."

— Former Boston College AND N.Y. Giants head coach Tom Coughlin

FRANK BEAMER NOTCHES FIRST WIN OVER BOBBY BOWDEN

Shortly before the final seconds ticked off, a few of Tech's players dumped a cooler filled with water over Beamer, and while Tech's longtime head coach downplayed the victory over the Seminoles from a personal standpoint, his smiles on the sideline at the end of the game spoke to the contrary.

—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Nov. 12, 2007 issue

2009 ORANGE BOWL VICTORY OVER CINCINNATI

The Orange Bowl championship trophy is likely the biggest — and heaviest — that Virginia Tech has ever won. It took two managers and a pushcart to get the massive trophy and glass bowl into the lobby of head coach Frank Beamer's office — and that's after the real oranges were replaced with hollow plastic replicas.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2009 issue

2009 CHICK-FIL-A BOWL VICTORY OVER TENNESSEE

New Year's Eve in Atlanta features the annual ritual of dropping an oversized replica of a peach to commemorate the New Year. This year, the ritual also featured the Virginia Tech football team dropping the hammer on Tennessee.

Behind a punishing defense and the typical running of Ryan Williams, the Hokies closed 2009 by caging ol' Smokey and knocking the Volunteers off Rocky Top in a 37-14 rout in the Chick-fil-A Bowl at the Georgia Dome.

—Jimmy Robertson, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2010 ACC TITLE WIN OVER FLORIDA STATE

Beamer's 24th team pulled off one of the great turnarounds we've ever seen. The 2010 Virginia Tech Hokies were the first team in NCAA history to lose their first two ball games and then win 11 straight. It had never happened before.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2014 WIN AT OHIO STATE

"I still remember going to Nebraska and winning and going to Texas A&M and winning. That's been a few years back. But this is good. I think those things go in cycles a little bit. When you play good teams like we play, you've got about a 50-50 shot of winning, and when you go on the road, it probably goes down a little bit. I think this is a big, big win for the status of our program."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Sept. 7, 2014

FRANK BEAMER ANNOUNCES PLANS TO RETIRE

Beamer is fond of saying that he is fortunate and grateful. And he undoubtedly is. We all are, in fact. We all got to be a part of it. We all got to actually experience it — me, for just a short time, which will fortunately allow me to be a bridge when I talk of the Beamer way. For many of you, for much longer, which will only strengthen your conviction when you speak, as well.

—Jon Laaser, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2015 issue

HOKIES BEAT VIRGINIA 23-20 IN FRANK BEAMER'S FINAL REGULAR-SEASON GAME

"That game showed everything we've tried to do at Virginia Tech. Relentless—I love that word—we got down and found a way to come back. We got it at the end. We did some good things in the kicking game, getting field position. The defense played great, and the offense made plays. Everything that we talk about—hanging in there, don't give in, play your best when it counts—that kind of came through today."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Nov. 28, 2015

HOKIES WIN INDEPENDENCE BOWL OVER TULSA IN FINAL GAME OF FRANK BEAMER'S CAREER

"I've got a lot to look forward to. My grandkids, I've got a wonderful wife—I'm not sure she's all for it, but we're going to spend a lot of time together now—and then I've got some things that I'm interested in doing in the future. The next challenge, I look forward to it. I realize how fortunate I've been to have lasted this long at Virginia Tech. All I am is grateful and looking forward to taking the next step."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide the Hokies' football program since the 1940s, won more games at Tech than any other head football coach. Prior to Beamer, no other grid coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach. Beamer was also the most-tenured active FBS head coach, having been at his current school consecutively longer than any other coach in the nation at the time of his retirement.

With a victory in the Independence Bowl, Beamer led the Hokies to 23 straight bowl games, making him one of four coaches all-time in college football history to accomplish that feat.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH BEAMER AND HIS STAFF, THE HOKIES ...

- played for the national championship for the first time in school history.
- become the only school to go to bowl games each of the last 23 seasons (longest active streak per NCAA).
- become one of only six programs in college football history to go to a bowl in at least 20 straight years, Nebraska (35), Michigan (33), Florida State (24), Alabama (25), Tech (23; active) and Florida (22).
- earned seven conference titles and eight "major" bowl bids in a 23-year span.
- become one of only four teams in the history of the Division I level to produce 10 or more wins eight seasons or more in a row.
- compiled a school-record streak in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll at 84 consecutive weeks.
- posted 11 wins in a season for the first time.
- registered the program's first back-to-back 11-win seasons.
- produced the school's first 11-0 regular-season record in football.
- won Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl titles.
- won four Atlantic Coast Conference titles.
- won an ACC Championship in their first season of competition.
- played in five ACC Championship games.
- produced the ACC Coach of the Year and Player of the Year during their inaugural ACC season.
- become the first team in BIG EAST history to win all the league's major awards in the same season.
- earned the highest national rankings in school football history, including five top-10 finishes and back-to-back top-six finishes.
- won more games (238) than under any other coaching staff in school history.
- been to five times as many bowl games (23) than under any other staff.
- won more bowl games (11) than under any other coaching staff.
- posted 23 straight seasons of seven or more wins for the first time in school history.
- had 244 of their last 271 games televised (90 percent).
- compiled a 174-70 record in televised games since the start of the 1995 season.
- blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team.
- become one of only eight FBS schools ever to lead the nation in both scoring offense and defense in the same season.
- had at least one player from every defensive position score a touchdown.
- produced a No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft.
- had 95 players taken in the NFL Draft and more than 200 players sign with NFL teams.
- had two players who entered the program as walk-ons drafted in the top four rounds of the NFL draft.
- had 19 different players earn AP All-America honors over the past 18 seasons.
- had players win 16 major conference individual awards in the past 18 years, including three in 2011.

Beamer Way and Beamer Locker Room

TECH HONORS BEAMER FOR TRANSFORMATIONAL CAREER

The school renames a street and the team's locker room after the retired football coach

Frank Beamer gave 29 years of his professional career to Virginia Tech, leading the football program to unprecedented heights and attracting national attention to the university.

In return, the university has recognized Beamer in numerous ways for his accomplishments, first renaming a campus street after him and later approving a renaming of the football team's locker room after him.

In August of 2015, the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors renamed Spring Road, the street that runs adjacent to Lane Stadium, to Beamer Way in appreciation of Beamer's years of service and extraordinary contributions to university life.

"Frank Beamer is the winningest football coach in Virginia Tech history and Cheryl [Beamer's wife] has been by his side supporting him and their family the entire way," Tech President Timothy Sands said when he made the announcement on Aug. 6, 2015, at the Hokies' first team meeting before the start of fall practice. "He has served as a figure of strength, excellence and compassion on campus and we wanted to honor Frank and Cheryl this way by renaming Spring Road to Beamer Way."

After 29 seasons as the head coach, Beamer retired at the conclusion of the 2015 season following the Hokies' win over Tulsa in the Independence Bowl. He finished his career with 280 victories, including 238 at Tech. He also won 11 bowl games and guided the Hokies to 23 straight bowl appearances.

This past spring, in March of 2016, the Board of Visitors decided more recognition of Beamer was warranted. The group approved the renaming of the football program's Team United Locker Room to The Frank Beamer Locker Room to honor Beamer for his years of service and contributions to the university and the game of football.

The locker room, which resides next to the team's indoor practice facility and outdoor practice field, was built four years ago after a generous donation from Beamer friends and longtime contributors Brian Callaghan (Class of 1993), Win Sheridan (Class of 1994), Jeff Veatch (Class of 1993) and Ted Hanson (Class of 1991). The quartet owns Apex Systems, Inc., in Richmond and their donation facilitated the construction of the facility, which now bears Beamer's name.

About Virginia Tech

Dedicated to its motto, Ut Prosim ("That I May Serve"), Virginia Tech takes a hands-on, minds-on approach to education, preparing scholars to be leaders in their fields and communities. Since its founding as a land-grant college in 1872, Virginia Tech has grown to an enrollment of more than 34,000.

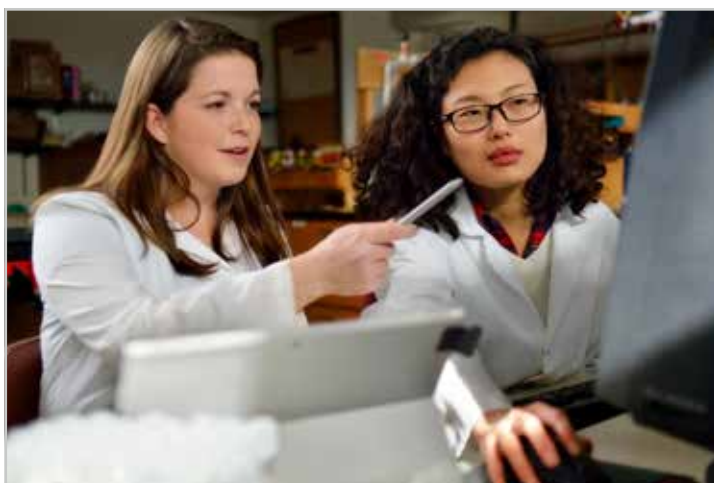

With a strong presence in the National Capital Region, Roanoke, and on the main campus in Blacksburg, Virginia, as well as an international campus in Europe, Virginia Tech offers the widest range of degree choices in Virginia and is the state's leading research institution. Tech offers approximately 250 undergraduate and graduate degree programs and $521 million in research expenditures each year. The university's undergraduate colleges are the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, College of Architecture and Urban Studies, College of Engineering, College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences, College of Natural Resources and Environment, College of Science, and the Pamplin College of Business. At the postgraduate level is the Graduate School, the Virginia-Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine, and the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine, a public-private partnership with Carilion Clinic in Roanoke.

Through defined Destination Areas and Strategic Growth Areas, Tech scholars seek to address complex global challenges. First, university officials look outside Virginia Tech and into the future for difficult problems of national and global importance. Then, those officials invest resources to build and support world-class groups of faculty that transcend our disciplinary strengths. Destination Areas create the agile and vibrant environment that makes Virginia Tech the "destination" for the people and resources needed to make a difference. Taking students to the next level by helping them solve real-world problems, Tech professors have a reputation for imagining the next great thing – from blind-driver cars to energy-conscious homes – and then making it happen. Faculty members and students, including undergraduates, are involved in research projects in fields ranging from biotechnology to urban planning.

Virginia Tech's Moss Arts Center presents renowned artists from around the globe and from close to home, with a special focus on experiences that expand cultural awareness and deepen understanding. The center is creating a thriving creative community fueled by inspiration, where patrons have meaningful experiences, enjoying arts of the highest caliber in a wide variety of forms.

The desire to serve is deeply ingrained in Virginia Tech's learning, discovery and engagement. More than a motto, Ut Prosim is a value system that guides students' decisions and helps mold them into responsible citizens of the world.

Virginia Tech is consistently recognized for its value and the quality of its programs. These rankings represent a few of the broader measures of excellence that the university garners.

Tim Sands

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Timothy D. Sands is the 16th president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, joining the university in June of 2014. He is also a scientist, educator, and inventor, he has dedicated much of his career to advancing the impact of research and innovation in public education. As president, he has engaged the university community in a visionary plan to advance Virginia Tech's role as a global land-grant institution, confronting the commonwealth's, the country's, and the world's most challenging problems. The initiative, called "Beyond Boundaries," seeks to define Virginia Tech's role a generation into the future and align the educational experience with the needs and opportunities that will be created by changing world economies and the evolving landscape of higher education.

In collaboration with the provost and academic leadership, he has championed the development of Destination Areas, thematic focus areas that leverage the university's signature strengths to attract talent and generate creative energy that extends across the disciplines. The development of these areas involves reimagining Virginia Tech's Blacksburg residential campus, catalyzing the economic development of the Blacksburg-Roanoke region with a growing health science and technology center of excellence and developing the experiential learning and research potential in the National Capital Region. He has prioritized building new and enhancing existing partnerships and collaborations to use resources and expertise in a focused and efficient way across the country and the globe.

He also launched and led InclusiveVT, an initiative to provide leadership, collaboration, guidance, and resources to support and accelerate the implementation of inclusion and diversity goals throughout the university community.

InclusiveVT supports the imperative of inclusion and diversity as key components of a university ecosystem rich in opportunities for experiential learning, cross-disciplinary engagement, and the development of cultural awareness and empathy.

President Sands' vision for Virginia Tech embraces the university's heritage of service and community and its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). Virginia Tech students will graduate with disciplinary mastery, technology literacy, cultural competency, resilience, empathy for others, and the passions and strengths needed for a life and career of impactful service to humanity.

Before coming to Virginia Tech, President Sands served as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost of Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana. He was acting president during the summer and fall of 2012, before Mitchell E. Daniels became the 12th president of Purdue.

He earned a bachelor's degree with highest honors in engineering physics and a master's degree and doctorate in materials science from the University of California, Berkeley. He joined the Purdue faculty in 2002 as the Basil S. Turner Professor of Engineering in the schools of Materials Engineering and Electrical and Computer Engineering. Prior to becoming provost, he served as the Mary Jo and Robert L. Kirk Director of the Birck Nanotechnology Center in Purdue's Discovery Park.

From 1993 to 2002, President Sands was a professor of materials science and engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, and before that, he performed research and directed research groups at Bell Communications Research (Bellcore) in Red Bank, New Jersey. Throughout his career, he has participated in and led research teams and academic programs that have been characterized by open collaboration across a wide array of disciplines.

He has published more than 250 refereed papers and conference proceedings and has been granted 20 patents in electronic and optoelectronic materials and devices. He is member of the faculty in Virginia Tech's Bradley Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, with research interests in microelectronics, optoelectronics, and nanotechnology. He is a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, the Materials Research Society, and the National Academy of Inventors.

President Sands is joined at Virginia Tech by his wife, Dr. Laura Sands, a professor of gerontology in the Department of Human Development at Virginia Tech. All four of their children graduated from Purdue and are proud members of the Virginia Tech community. Follow President Sands on Twitter at @VTSandsman.

Virginia Tech Athletics started a new era when Whit Babcock was formally named Virginia Tech's director of athletics on Jan. 24, 2014. The Harrisonburg, Virginia native came back to the state following stints at Cincinnati, Missouri, West Virginia and Auburn.

"It [the position] was appealing to me primarily because of two reasons – fit and opportunity," Babcock said at the news conference announcing his hiring. "My Virginia heritage – I'm a fifth-generation Virginian – certainly helps with fit and understanding the culture, and coming home is a big component.

"But it's more than that. It's also the opportunity to compete against the best and to join a championship-caliber program that is and will continue to be a leader in the ACC athletically and academically."

Babcock continues to make his mark on all facets of the athletics department, from fan engagement to facilities to fundraising and coaching hires. In fact, he received national acclaim for his work as an AD during the 2017-18 academic year, as he was named one of four FBS recipients of the Under Armour AD of the Year. The previous year, Babcock was one of five finalists for the AD of the Year honor handed out by SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily.

The 2017-18 academic year was another successful one for Virginia Tech under Babcock's leadership. Four members of the men's track and field team combined to win the national championship in the distance medley relay – the program's first in distance running. Also, the Hokies won the ACC championship in wrestling, while the football team extended its bowl streak to 25 straight games, and the men's basketball squad received an NCAA Tournament bid for the second straight year. The women's basketball program made it to the finals of the WNIT, and both the women's golf and lacrosse programs earned berths to NCAA postseason play for the first time in program history.

Also, the Hokies claimed the Commonwealth Clash, an all-sports competition with rival Virginia sponsored by Virginia529, for the second consecutive year. Tech dominated the Cavaliers in 2017-18, winning by a score of 12.5-8.5. Six of those points came from the track and field and cross country programs, while other sports scoring points included football, wrestling, lacrosse, volleyball, softball and men's tennis. The men's basketball program registered a half of a point by virtue of its season split with the Cavaliers.

Babcock has displayed an acumen for making great coaching hires during his relatively short tenure in Blacksburg, which has led to much of the Hokies' recent successes. Justin Fuente earned consensus honors as the ACC Coach

Babcock welcomed 2016 Olympian Kristi Castlin back to Hokie Nation in 2017. Castlin won a bronze medal at the Rio Games in an American sweep in the 100-meter hurdles of the Year in 2016 after guiding the football team to 10 wins and has won 19 games in two years since succeeding legendary coach Frank Beamer, who retired after the 2015 season following 29 years as the head coach. Buzz Williams has led the men's basketball program to two NCAA Tournament appearances in four years, and Kenny Brooks has guided the women's basketball program to back-to-back postseason appearances in his two years.

Other Babcock hires faring well include wrestling head coach Tony Robie, who has led the Hokies to back-to-back ACC titles and top-10 finishes at the NCAA Wrestling Championships, and lacrosse head coach John Sung, who led Tech's squad to a school-record 14 wins and the program's first NCAA appearance in 2018.

On the fundraising front, Babcock's 2016 revamping of the Hokie Club, the athletics department's fundraising arm, continues to pay dividends, as the club raised a school-record $47.7 million overall for the giving cycle ending March 31, 2018, with nearly $16.8 million designated for the Hokie Scholarship Fund, which goes toward the rising costs of tuition for the school's more than 550 scholarship student-athletes.

In addition, in December of 2016, Babcock implemented a "Drive for 25" initiative designed to increase membership in the Hokie Club to 25,000 members. He tabbed Beamer to serve as the spokesperson for the campaign, which helps raise the financial resources to provide Virginia Tech student-athletes with the opportunities to continue their success in the classroom, in competition and in the community.

A chunk of the $47.7 million raised during the 2017-18 year came from a $15.2 million gift to be used toward the construction of a Student-Athlete Performance Center. The center, to be built on the fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletics Center in 2019, allows for the sports nutrition staff to feed student-athletes in all 22 sports and also to be used for donor hospitality before football and basketball games and for recruiting functions.

The center will be the latest facilities project, as in the spring of 2018, the athletics department concluded an $18 million renovation of English Field at Union Park – in large part because of a $3.5 million donation from Union Bank secured by Babcock – and the conclusion of an $18 million project that resulted in the construction of a softball hitting facility and the conversion of Rector Field House into a home for the Hokies' track and field programs.

But it's not just all about athletics, money and facilities with Babcock. The Hokies are getting it done in the classroom as well. Vincent Ciattei, a member of the men's track and field squad, was named the ACC's Indoor Track and Field Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and both he and women's soccer player Alani Johnson received ACC postgraduate scholarships. In all 192 student-athletes made the Dean's List during the fall semester (3.40 GPA or better), and more than 300 student-athletes maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0. Seventeen of the Hokies' 22 programs maintain a cumulative team GPA of 3.0 or better.

Other accomplishments during Babcock's tenure include the launching of a new mission statement and core values for the athletics department. The mission statement and the core values – integrity, service, honor, excellence and strong together – represent the foundation of the department and every decision made. In addition, he unveiled the "Pylons of Promise," a landmark document that sets forth the university's and the athletics department's commitment to student-athletes during their times at Virginia Tech. This document served as Virginia Tech's response to the changes in the NCAA governance landscape. The Pylons of Promise is based on the ideals emblazoned on the eight pylons at the Virginia Tech War Memorial Court.

Babcock arrived in Blacksburg following two and a half years as the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati and five years at the University of Missouri, where he served as the executive associate director of athletics. His background in fundraising, marketing, promotions, ticket sales, licensing and multimedia partnerships were key attributes in support of his hiring. In his introductory press conference at Virginia Tech, Babcock cited three guiding principles for his vision for the athletics department's future: commitment to comprehensive excellence, centering the department's focus on the student-athlete experience and engaging the community.

Over the past six years, both while at Cincinnati and Virginia Tech, Babcock has been active on the local and national speaking circuits. He has presented before the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) and the 1-A Athletic Directors Association annual institute. He is a past president of the National Association of Athletic Development Directors (NAADD).

Prior to his time at Cincinnati, Babcock's 22-year career path included stops at Missouri, West Virginia, Auburn and James Madison.

A student-athlete himself, Babcock lettered four seasons in baseball at James Madison University and served as team captain his senior year. He earned his bachelor's degree from JMU in 1992. In 1996, he received his master's in sports management from West Virginia University.

He and his wife, Kelly, have three sons: Andrew, Brett and Eli.

IMG Sports Marketing

IMG College, a national leader in the collegiate sports marketing industry, is in its 22nd year as the exclusive worldwide multi-media and advertising rights holder for Virginia Tech Athletics through its 2010 acquisition of ISP Sports.

In this partnership with the athletics program, Virginia Tech IMG Sports Marketing develops, produces and sells an extensive range of sports marketing opportunities for Tech. Radio play-by-play and coach's shows, television programming and coach's shows, Lane Stadium and Cassell Coliseum venue signage, video board and promotions, along with print and digital advertising are available.

During its very successful partnership with Virginia Tech, IMG College has developed the Virginia Tech IMG Sports Network into the largest collegiate sports radio network in Virginia. Broadcast coverage includes the commonwealth of Virginia, as well as portions of Maryland, North Carolina, Kentucky, Washington, D.C., and West Virginia. The IMG Sports Network includes affiliates in five of the top 120 media markets in the country; Washington, D.C. (7), Charlotte, NC (24), Norfolk/Virginia Beach (45), Richmond (53) and Roanoke (119). Those affiliates join the Flagship home of the Hokies in Blacksburg, Cumulus Broadcasting's 105.3 FM "The Bear."

The network's television coverage of Tech athletics is centered around Hokies All Access, a cutting-edge 60-minute television program that provides an immersive game day experience for Tech football, basketball and other special athletic events. Debuting in advance of the 2018 football season, Hokies All Access will air Friday nights on WWCW in the Southwest Virginia and Saturday mornings through the mid-Atlantic region on NBC Sports Washington. Hokies All Access will make Tech an industry front-runner by providing provocative insider conversation with head coach Justin Fuente, film breakdown with staff members, interactive social content, on-field tutorials from current players and analysis from former greats.

IMG College also works diligently to stay on the forefront of an ever-evolving multi-media climate. That includes conceptualizing content that provides Hokie Nation a variety of video and audio streaming options to cover Tech football year-round. In 2018 those initiatives will include worldwide streaming of game action and coach's shows on Tuneln and through the Hokies Sports app. Additionally, HokiePod returns for a second season along with daily content throughout the year.

Other advertising and marketing opportunities managed by Virginia Tech IMG Sports Marketing include the state-of-the-art video screens (HokieVision) in Lane Stadium, Cassell Coliseum and English Field at Union Park. IMG College also features venue signage, ribbon board LED advertising and promotion, pre-game hospitality events and a wide array of print and digital opportunities across all sports.

So, whether your interest is in radio or television media, print, promotions, signage, video board, event impact or digital ... Virginia Tech IMG Sports Marketing is your corporate connection to Virginia Tech.

JON LAASER (pronounced "laser") enters his fourth season as "The Voice of the Hokies" in 2018. In that role, Laaser serves as the lead announcer for Virginia Tech football and men's basketball across the Virginia Tech IMG Sports Network. Additionally, he is the host of the weekly Tech Talk Live! radio program, Hokies All Access television show and an analyst and contributor to HokiePod. The 39-year old also serves as one of the primary announcers for Tech's ACC Network Extra broadcasts, pens the "Behind the Mic" column for Inside Hokie Sports magazine and frequently serves as an emcee, public speaker and ambassador for the University. The Chanhassen, Minnesota native boasts a wide range of football, basketball and baseball announcing experience throughout his 18-year broadcasting career. Officially named to his current position on June 23, 2015, he joined Virginia Tech after spending four years working as a television and radio broadcaster for VCU basketball. His broadcasting journey originally brought him to Virginia in 2009 as one of the founding staff members of the Richmond Flying Squirrels, the Double-A affiliate of the San Francisco Giants. He served six seasons (2010-2015) as "The Voice of the Squirrels" and during that time garnered regional college basketball television assignments which included partnering with analyst John Feinstein on Comcast Sportsnet Washington.

Recognized by his peers as one of the top young play-by-play talents in the country, longtime FOX Sports and Cincinnati Reds broadcaster Thom Brennaman was one of several prominent sports figures who endorsed Laaser along with the "Voice of the Minnesota Vikings" Paul Allen and San Francisco Giants general manager Bobby Evans.

Working for Hampton Roads Sports Network in 2014-15, Laaser served as lead play-by-play broadcaster for college, high school football and basketball telecasts featuring schools throughout Virginia. He was also "The Voice of the Buccaneers" for the football and basketball programs of Charleston Southern from 2008-09, in addition to baseball broadcasting duties with the Myrtle Beach Pelicans, which at the time was the Class A Advanced Affiliate of the Atlanta Braves.

His extensive minor league baseball background also includes stints with the Altoona Curve (Pirates AA affiliate), Yakima Bears (Diamondbacks short-season A affiliate), St. Paul Saints (independent) and St. Cloud River Bats (Northwoods League). Laaser's professional career began in Minnesota with stints working for KFAN Radio in Minneapolis and KXSS Radio in St. Cloud as well with the NFL's Minnesota Vikings. Laaser is a graduate of Brown College in the Twin Cities and currently resides in Blacksburg with his wife, Renée, whom he wed in May of 2018.

 @MikeBurnopVT

MIKE BURNOP, Virginia Tech's Hall of Fame network analyst

received a multi-year contract extension prior to the 2015 football season and enters his 36th season in the Hokies' football booth. Burnop, a former star tight end for the Hokies, held the Virginia Tech record for receptions in a season by a tight end with 46 from the end of his playing career until it was broken by Bucky Hodges in 2016 (48). Burnop also ranks second all-time (Hodges) for career yards receiving by a tight end. In addition to his broadcasting duties, Burnop owns New River Office Supply, a business operating in Blacksburg, Pearisburg and Salem, Va.

In addition to his role as analyst, Burnop handles all post-game interviews from Tech's locker room. His versatility at the mic is nearly unparalleled in collegiate athletics as he also serves as the analyst for Tech men's basketball broadcasts. He is one of just a few announcers nationwide that provide analysis for both sports. Burnop is a prominent member of the Blacksburg community, frequently lending his time and talents to philanthropic causes throughout the area.

 @AAllegretta

ANDREW ALLEGRETTA is in his eighth season as the Director of Broadcast Operations for Digital Media and Olympic Sports. He serves as the sideline reporter and pre/post-game host for football broadcasts on the Virginia Tech IMG Sports Network. He also serves as the play-by-play broadcaster for Virginia Tech's women's basketball and baseball teams. In addition, he anchors coverage of Tech Olympic sports on HokiesXtra and hokiesports.com. Allegretta is also a contributor to men's basketball radio broadcasts and Virginia Tech Sports Today, the network's weekly regional television program. A native of Yarmouth, Maine, Allegretta graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in broadcast journalism.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's a frequently asked question in Virginia Tech athletics, and the answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer, and a contest for that purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Virginia Tech teams and those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors – Chicago maroon and burnt orange – also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

VT Athletics Communications

Media interested in Tech athletics, be it an interview or press credential request, are encouraged to contact the Athletics Communications Office.

Hokie coaches and athletes work closely with the Communications staff in servicing media requests. Please, don't hesitate to give us a call.

All interview requests for Virginia Tech coaches, student-athletes and administrators should be directed to an appropriate member of the Athletics Communications staff.

The Athletics Communications Office is located on the fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletic Center, which is connected to Cassell Coliseum and the Merryman Athletic Center. The office is next to the Bowman Room.

All media members coming to campus during the week need to stop by the Visitor and Undergraduate Admissions Center at 925 Prices Fork Road to obtain a parking pass.

Media will be responsible for paying any fines they incur while on campus.

THE PRESS BOX

The press box at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field comprises seven levels. Newspaper, radio and television reporters work on the fifth level.

The media area of the press box is accessible via elevators Nos. 4 & 5, which are located on the west side, in the south tower.

Admission to the press box is by credential only. Smoking is not allowed in the stands or in any enclosed area of Lane Stadium, including the press box and rest rooms.

JUST VIRGINIA TECH, PLEASE

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech." Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896. Fans of the athletics department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech. The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today.

Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech." Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, "Vah Tech," VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

MEDIA

In March 2018, the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors approved plans for a $10 million investment in facilities, equipment and infrastructure on the Tech Athletics footprint of campus, as the Hokies ready for the anticipated launch of the ACC Network in 2019.

Plans called for the development of two identical linear network control rooms, including audio and replay suites, as well as state-of-the-art engineering, shading and edit suites. This facility will be housed in the former Shott Media Center in the south end zone of Lane Stadium. These two control rooms have the ability to allow HokieVision – the athletics department’s video staff – to produce simultaneously live Virginia Tech sporting events for the ESPN networks, including the new linear ACC Network set to launch in August 2019. In addition, the rooms can be used to produce ACC Network Extra digital broadcasts.

A second location on the first floor of Lane Stadium’s West Side that currently houses a memorabilia area will be transformed into studios, as well as another control room and audio suite. In addition to programming for the ACC Network, this location will be used for HokieVision, as well as potential future collaborative efforts with Virginia Tech academic departments.

It is anticipated that, by the time the ACC Network launches in August 2019, the number of student workers employed by HokieVision will increase from 20 to approximately 100.

Hokie Club

Founded in 1949 as the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund with the expressed purpose of funding scholarships for student-athletes at Tech, today the Hokie Club serves as the official conduit between fans and Virginia Tech Athletics.

"I know firsthand from both my experience as a player and from coaching just how important scholarships are to young people here at Virginia Tech," Frank Beamer said, who earned a football scholarship to Tech long before embarking on his legendary coaching career. "Scholarships change lives, and that's why Cheryl and I have always been willing to give to help these student-athletes not just to play sports, but to be a part of such a special place and get a degree. Many of my former players wouldn't have received that opportunity otherwise."

BILL LANSDEN

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE HOKIE CLUB

Lansden joined Virginia Tech in 2015 and serves as the chief major gift officer for Intercollegiate Athletics. He is responsible for the planning and implementation of the overall fundraising efforts from all private sources. Under his leadership, overall giving to the Hokie Club approached $48 million based on the most recent benefit giving cycle that concluded March 31, 2018, shattering the previous record of $33 million set only a year ago. The Drive for 25 campaign continues to bolster membership numbers in the Hokie Club as Tech seeks to keep pace with increasing scholarship costs.

Prior to his arrival in Blacksburg, Lansden spent two years as the Senior Associate AD for External Relations at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. While at UAB, he oversaw a staff of 25 in the areas of development, marketing, media relations and ticketing for the Blazers' 18 sports. Prior to UAB, he spent nine years (2004-2013) as the Associate AD for Athletics Development at the University of Memphis, where he oversaw capital campaigns, the major gifts program and annual giving. Lansden received a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from Rhodes College where he lettered four years in football. He also received a Master of Science degree in sports administration from Georgia State in 1993. He and his wife, Blair, are parents of twin daughters - Madeline and Delaney.

“There is strength in numbers. Compared to other top programs in the nation, we don’t have enough folks on board as annual donors. This is a tremendous opportunity for fans and alumni to demonstrate their love for the Hokies by making a gift and making a difference in the lives of our students and student-athletes for generations to come.”

- FRANK BEAMER

QUICK FACTS

- Launched – December 12, 2016
- Objective – Increase membership in the Hokie Club to 25,000 members
- History – The Hokie Club (formerly known as the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund) was founded in 1949 to fund scholarships for student-athletes at Tech
- ACC Peers – Clemson, Florida State and N.C. State all possess fundraising organizations approaching 25,000 members

Your Hokie Club gift provides Virginia Tech student-athletes with invaluable academic and athletic opportunities. Thank you for impacting their lives and helping provide the scholarship support necessary to continue reaching for excellence.

“Last season it was so cool to get a chance to wear Coach Beamer’s No. 25 jersey. That meant so much to honor all that he’s done for Virginia Tech. You can help honor Coach Beamer’s legacy too by joining the Hokie Club’s The Drive For 25. Your gift helps fund scholarships for guys like me. Getting a Virginia Tech education has been nothing but a game changer for me. Help the next generation of Hokies by joining The Drive For 25!”
